

WORLD'S GREATEST BRIDGE?—Above is design a San Francisco engineer-inventor has developed for what he terms the greatest bridge in the world. It proposes 21 traffic lanes on a two-deck system. Left end would connect with Pier 43 in San Francisco at foot of Jefferson Street, right end would be an anchorage just short of Angel Island. From there to the Tiburon peninsula, according to plans, bridge construction is routine.

Tiburon Span Would Be 'Greatest'

Plan Includes 1,000-Foot Alcatraz Spire, 21 Lanes

By ROSS DAVIS

The greatest bridge in the world—bar none, is the description an engineer-inventor gives his plans for a San Francisco-Tiburon bridge.

If Cleve Shaffer means in physical measurements, it apparently would be, for it would have a bountiful 21 lanes of traffic on its two decks.

All-Night Hunt Ends Happily

An all-night search for two missing Kent Woodlands 6-year-olds by Marin sheriff's officers using a bloodhound ended happily early yesterday when the two were found romping in a pile of straw at College of Marin near their homes.

The boys are Carl Bricca, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bricca Jr., 6 Rancheria Road, and Craig Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald W. Chapman Jr., 37 Rancheria Road.

Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson said the boys, who slept the night in sleeping bags on the College football field, had been within hearing distance of searchers calling their names several times during the night.

The boys had declined to answer, however, he said.

They were reported missing by their parents about 5:30 p.m. Saturday. Deputies were told the boys had been refused permission to go camping, but were seen shortly afterwards departing with their sleeping bags.

The sheriff's office, called about 7:10 p.m., obtained the dog from Michael McLean, special deputy, and a search was conducted—mainly in swamp-land east on Adeline E. Kent School—by eight men. It was about dawn Sunday when the two were seen in the straw pile near their sleeping bags, officer said. They were reported unbothered from the night's exposure to frost and cold, and told parents they had eaten well on hot dogs and marshmallows, officers added.

If he means for beauty, he might also be right. The plans disclose simple, sweeping lines to a lone tower. The span would be launched on the San Francisco end via an anchorage adorned with flowers and appropriately enough—"Hanging Gardens."

"PUT TO SHAME"

Shaffer, 79, of San Francisco, said he means both. He calls it the "most unusual, unique and largest bridge complex ever conceived in ancient or modern engineering." It puts the 1957 bridge proposal in a California State Department of Works publication to shame, in its designer's view.

Shaffer's idea is to utilize Alcatraz Island; otherwise his problems and those of the other design are the same. Whereas the State's design would span from San Francisco to Angel Island, Shaffer's would plant on Alcatraz the single tower, a structure 850 feet between the four cable saddles and the water line and totaling about 1,000 feet high counting a circular restaurant and design at top.

Too, his plans only extend to a northern anchorage short of Angel Island. From there, he said, continuance of the bridge is a simple matter and he doesn't care to involve himself in where the Tiburon peninsula union is made.

"WHO'S WHO"

Shaffer, who made the 1963-64 edition of "Who's Who in the West" with his multitude of engineering and inventing feats, would have a suspension-type bridge, with the tower on Alcatraz exactly halfway between the "Hanging Garden" anchorage and the northern anchorage short of Angel Island. The bridge to Angel Island would be 10,900 feet long—slightly over two miles.

The bridge would have 12 upper traffic lanes and nine lower, with two lanes available for any rapid transit system. It would give clearance of 220 feet from the mean water line at maximum height of both spans, would be 132 feet wide, and have a 12-foot wind-spilling system in the bridge's center to prevent damage in gales.

LONE TOWER FOR BRIDGE—Engineer-inventor Cleve Shaffer of San Francisco offers a sketch of the lone tower he proposes to support a four-cable suspension bridge from Tibu-

Stripper Says She Saw Ruby Beat Man

DALLAS (UPI) — Penny Dollar, a second-generation stripper, testified today she once saw Jack Ruby beat a man's head on the sidewalk and then ask:

"Did I do this?—Did I do this?"

The brunette, who, like her mother before her, used to take off her clothes for patrons of Ruby's Carousel Club, said he was so proud of his muscles he often invited the dressing room to flex them for the girls.

Miss Dollar, who was born Patricia Kohms, of Irving, Texas, was brought from jail to testify. She was arrested in Orange, Texas, for having one-third of an ounce of marijuana, 32 sleeping pills, and seven wake-up pills.

GOP Seeks To Question Johnson Aide

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Walter Jenkins, long-time administrative assistant to President Lyndon B. Johnson, heads a list of about 30 witnesses that Republican members of the Senate rules committee want summoned for interrogation in the Robert G. (Bobby) Baker investigation.

Jenkins was a key figure in the gift of a $600 stereo set to then-Senate Democratic Leader Johnson by an insurance agent. Jenkins gave the committee an affidavit on this matter, which was flatly controverted by the insurance agent's sworn testimony. GOP committeemen are insisting Jenkins be subpoenaed for direct grilling on this and other explosive aspects of the sensational probe.

Democratic committeemen, who outnumber the Republicans two to one, are claiming

McNamara Sees GI Death Plunge

Copter Crash Kills 2

SAIGON, South Vietnam (UPI)—An armed American helicopter escorting U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara on a jungle battlefield inspection crashed today, killing two crewmen and injuring three others.

U.S. military sources said members of McNamara's party watched in horror as the helicopter plunged into swamp water just after the defense secretary had landed near a Mekong River delta village near the Cambodian border.

MAKING TOUR

Military sources said two enlisted crewmen of the helicopter were killed and its pilot and co-pilot were seriously injured.

The crash brought to 114 the number of Americans who have died in battle or related incidents in South Vietnam since 1961. Another 80 Americans have died of other causes.

OTHER DEAD

A U.S. spokesman had announced earlier that one Air Force officer was killed and three U.S. Army men wounded in weekend battles with the Communists.

Today's helicopter incident occurred near Hoa Hao Village in An Giang Province, about 90 miles southwest of Saigon.

McNamara and his party arrived there by helicopter in the course of an inspection of the Communist-dominated Mekong Delta. He was accompanied by Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, head of South Vietnam's military government.

COUNTY BUDGET

Will Marin Tax Rate Increase?

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK (First of three articles)

The budget for Marin County Government for the present fiscal year, including library services, crowded 17 million dollars. Next year's could crowd 19 million dollars.

The tax rate for services in the largest single governmental entity in the county has risen sharply during the past two years, but County Administrator Alan Bruce has pledged himself to make a heroic effort to hold the line this year.

It may take a heroic effort. The county owes itself money borrowed this year because it ran short in some programs. It also owes the cities money it had to borrow.

Also, the county board of supervisors have, as much as is legally possible, committed themselves to some new programs, which may be costly next year and are sure to be even more costly in following years.

In addition, the County Employees Assn. has promised to push for a 5 per cent increase for the more than 700 county employees. The average salary paid now in county government is $555.

The future is not so bleak as it might be, however. Administrator Bruce, County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell and Treasurer-Tax Collector Stanley J. Fontez agree that the budget could probably be increased to 18.5 million dollars without a tax increase.

They all say, however, that this figure is the outside limit, and any further increase would mean property tax boosts. One cent on the property tax rate raises about $35,000 county-wide.

The present county tax rate is $2.255 per $100 assessed value. See BUDGET, page 4

Major North Marin Traffic Changes Due

Major changes in the traffic pattern at Highways 101 and 37 and South Novato Boulevard will be made tomorrow morning with opening of part of the Black Point Cutoff interchange.

Opening of part of this project will create nine changes in the flow of traffic at this intersection:

1. The most important change will be in the northbound traffic leaving Highway 101 for South Novato Boulevard. Instead of making a left turn from the center lane, this traffic will move to the outside right lane.

North of the present Highway 37, the traffic for South Novato Boulevard will make a right turn, go in a loop over Highway 101, down to South Novato Boulevard. Officials of the Division of Highways ask that if a person misses this turn, he continue north on Highway 101 to Diablo Avenue and back to South Novato Boulevard.

2. Traffic on Highway 37 going southbound will leave the present highway east of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad tracks, go over a ramp to the west side of Highway 101, then south on a feeder lane.

3. Traffic from Highway 37

U.S. Denies Fast New Planes Flew Over Red Area

Magazine Reports 2,000 MPH Passed Over Communist Territory

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government officials today denied a report published by an authoritative trade journal that the A-11 2,000-mile-an-hour plane had made reconnaissance flights over "communist territory."

The magazine, Aviation Week, in its edition dated today, said "the Lockheed A-11 is a mach 3.5 special purpose aircraft that has already flown long-range reconnaissance missions over communist territory."

Mach 3.5 means three and one half times the speed of sound or about 2,300 miles an hour.

The officials who denied the report would not allow themselves to be quoted by name. Asked whether the denial made any difference in the report in his magazine, Aviation Week editor Robert B. Hotz said, "No, sir."

In answer to a press inquiry about the story, the defense department press office said, "We have made no statement and defer to the White House." President Lyndon B. Johnson announced existence of the plane at his news conference on Feb. 29. He said the plane was capable of speeds in excess of 2,000-miles-an-hour at altitudes above 70,000 feet.

But the Aviation Week report was the first that the aircraft had been over communist territory. Hotz said the magazine had never identified the communist territory and was "not about to."

After Johnson announced existence of the plane, the Pentagon publicly thanked Aviation Week for having withheld news of it. Defense officials said the magazine had learned of the plane but agreed not to publicize it.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, (D-Ga.), of the Senate armed services committee said last week that the United States already had flown 11 or 12 of the planes. He said some were ready for use by the Air Force but had not been turned over to the service yet.

Sinatra Kidnap Life Terms Face Appeal

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Families of two young men sentenced to life in prison for kidnaping Frank Sinatra Jr. hope the sentence will be reduced and attorneys for all three defendants say they'll appeal the convictions.

The families and attorneys contend the jury was wrong.

Attorney George Forde, after speaking to the family of 23-year-old Joseph Amsler, said: "They told me the verdict was wrong — that it doesn't change their views, and that the sentences were so excessive as to be beyond the sense of reality."

The other defendants were Barry Keenan, also 23, and John Irwin, 42. Keenan and Amsler, who abducted the 20-year-old singer from a Lake Tahoe motel Dec. 8, were convicted Saturday on all six counts of a federal grand jury indictment.

They were both sentenced to life imprisonment plus 75 years, but first will undergo psychiatric examination. Federal Judge William G. East, in sentencing the pair Saturday, said their prison terms may be modified after the tests are completed in about 90 days at the Federal Medical Facility in Springfield, Mo.

Irwin's sentencing was postponed pending completion of a probation report. He was convicted on five counts, could serve 75 years in prison. He was acquitted of taking part in the actual abduction, for which the others got life terms.

The defense throughout the trial maintained the kidnapping was a publicity stunt and that young Sinatra knew about it in advance. The jury rejected the hoax claim.

Young Sinatra was released Dec. 11 near his mother's Bel Air home after his famed father paid $240,000 ransom in small bills. The three defendants were arrested a few days later by the FBI.

Young Sinatra, after learning of the verdict, said, "The whole business is over with. Let's forget it."

Frank Sinatra Sr. said: "The jury has rendered a just verdict and we are happy that they and the court were not confused by the false statements and innuendoes made during the trial. "We hope this will put an end to what was a very painful incident in our lives."

Malcolm X Branches Out

NEW YORK (AP) — A Brooklyn minister opposed to a state court's ban of the 18th Century novel "Memoirs of a Woman of Pleasure," says "man cannot choose between right and wrong without having knowledge of them both."

The Rev. William Glesnek, pastor of Spencer Memorial Presbyterian Church, told an overflow crowd of 600 yesterday that the novel, popularly known as "Fanny Hill," is a moral book.

The heroine, a London prostitute, "was not out for kicks . . . she was out for love," said the Rev. Mr. Glesnek.

The Appellate Division of the New York State Supreme Court banned sale of the book on the ground that it is obscene.

NEW YORK (AP)—Malcolm X, outspoken Black Muslim advocate of racial separation, has defected from the parent organization to form his own mosque to promote "active self defense against white supremacists in all parts of the country."

Malcolm said today: "I am still a Muslim . . . I intend to work on my own among America's 22 million non-Muslim Negroes to convert them from non-violence to active self-defense against white supremacists in all parts of the country."

"I want it clearly understood that my advice to all Muslims is that they stay in the Nation of Islam under the spiritual guidance of the Honorable Elijah Muhammad."

Malcolm, once considered heir apparent to Muhammad, who makes his headquarters in Chicago, was suspended by Muhammad in November after he said in a speech that President John F. Kennedy's death was a case of "the chickens coming home to roost."

Police said the two-engine plane, owned by Taxader Airlines, disappeared on a flight from Pereira. It was carrying 25 passengers and a crew of five.

Capital School Boycott

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Congress on Racial Equality (CORE) called yesterday for a one-day boycott of public schools and a week of demonstrations in the nation's capital.

Julius Hobson, chairman of CORE's Washington chapter, said the boycott was being called to protest the different "quality of education" between Negro and white communities. He said the white community had the best schools. School Superintendent Carl Hansen said the proposed boycott was "unwarranted" and "irresponsible." He said Hobson's criticism of the school system was unjust.

King's Body Borne

ATHENS, Greece (UPI) — The body of King Paul of Greece was borne slowly through a cold and grieving Athens today with his family, dressed in black, walking behind.

Queen Mother Frederika, the king's widow, appeared tired and her body was bent. She walked with faltering steps beside her son, King Constantine, who marched ramrod straight along the route from the royal palace to the Athens cathedral.

The body of the king, who died Friday, will lie in state in the cathedral until Thursday's funeral.

Lodge Support Casts Doubt On Barry's Chances In N.H.

CONCORD, N. H. (AP) — A cloud of indecision which could have a telling effect on the choice of the Republican presidential nominee hung heavily today over the outcome of tomorrow's New Hampshire primary.

There was widespread evidence that a significant number of Republicans who will go to the polls tomorrow to mark one of the more complex ballots in presidential preference primary history still are debating their choice.

This highlighted an invitation for upsets in a contest which Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) once was supposed to win handily in a battle with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Though Rockefeller and Goldwater seemed likely to pace the field of five official and two write-in entries, partisans thought that Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to South Vietnam, might come up to challenge them.

Lodge and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 presidential nominee, were represented in write-in campaigns. If these were successful in gaining a substantial share of the nearly 100,000 Republican votes expected to be cast, it could project them forcefully into the presidential nomination contest.

For Goldwater, the conservative, and Rockefeller, the moderate, there was the psychological need to win this contest, their first outing. Both vowed to continue their quest for nomination in victory or defeat.

But both looked to the June 2 California primary as the payoff derby after running this preliminary heat.

Almost nothing was heard of support for former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen, once a

Brown Views Poverty In Farm Area Towns

VISALIA (UPI)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown stepped out of a farm labor bus into a shanty town. He chatted with families living in squalid homes, even converted streetcars.

He heard of a young mother who helped load vegetable boxes for 10 hours one day, then delivered her own baby on a living room floor the same night.

"I think it's pretty bad," the governor said. "We just rendered an economic report saying that things are rosy. Maybe they're not as rosy as I thought."

His report, however, took note of the poverty too, he recalled.

Brown, describing himself as "the commander on the far west front in President Johnson's 'war on poverty,'" completed a two-day, unannounced visit to the city slums and the country slums in San Francisco and in the lush Central Valley around Crowley and Visalia Saturday.

Typical of the people he met were Cesario Gonzales, who said he earned $2,500 last year and had been out of work for two months, and Mrs. Steven Taylor, whose husband earned $1,700 last year.

She told Brown, "Our main trouble is this house. I work all day, and it still looks like hell."

At one stop, he chatted with a mother of seven whose husband is jobless. Kirk Wilson, Brown's guide and an official of the Friends Service Committee, said in the Goshen farming area 33 per cent of the families had outdoor toilets and 25 per cent had no hot water in their houses.

"In California we have tremendous prosperity," Brown said. "What I'm trying to find out is what we can do for those who haven't been able to advance."

"The poor have always been with us. But I refuse to believe this will always be true."

Limantour Split Area Due $247,000 Work

The United States government has plans to spend $247,500 starting in July on preliminary development of the Limantour Spit area of the Point Reyes National Seashore, according to Supt. Fred W. Binnewies.

The work will include .7 of a mile of road, parking for 300 cars, a 100-unit picnic area, comfort stations, and a bath house, utilities and lifeguard stations.

Binnewies said, a swimming beach on the lagoon on the north side of the sand spit, a marina, campgrounds, a food concession and possibly a fishing pier will be added soon, although specific plans for these have not been drawn.

The information was contained in a letter from the park superintendent to Marin County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost. Frost had been instructed by the board of supervisors to find out about developments in the area after residents near by complained that tourists were being invited in without adequate advance preparation.

"The Seashore entrance road that will connect from near Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to the Limantour Spit road is ready for survey now," Binnewies wrote.

"Construction will depend on the results of the survey and the time required for design and land acquisition. It will be no later than 1967 fiscal year and possibly sooner."

The National Park Service now owns the right of way from Drake's summit to the spit, the superintendent said. The parking area of the summit is partly a county road and partly private. Access over the private part has been questioned by property owners in the area.

Any work done by the county to improve a road within the Seashore area will be reimbursed by the federal government, Binnewies promised.

If it is decided the public has the right to pass over the private road (presumably because extended use has made it a public easement), the U. S. Government will furnish sanitary facilities, garbage disposal and ranger protection at the spit on a temporary basis, the superintendent continued.

Tax Office Doesn't Tax Her Memory

BURTON, Kan. (P) — Mrs. Beatrice Blubaugh has no trouble remembering her 1964 auto license number.

A chance distribution by the county tax office gave her license No. 321—the same number she had in 1963.

Indians Lay Claim To Alcatraz

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A series of wooden stakes dotted the landscape on Alcatraz Island today, the remnants of a swift Indian raid to lay claim to the deserted rocky island in the middle of San Francisco Bay.

Five full-blooded Sioux Indians, wearing ceremonial headdresses and carrying provisions for 30 days, landed on the island under a bright sun yesterday and claimed the territory for their tribe.

The five warriors calmly ignored demands by the caretaker warden of the abandoned federal penitentiary that they leave and drove stakes into the rocky soil to make their claim formal.

Then, as Warden Richard Willard ran to a phone to get reinforcements, the Indians did a victory dance under the island's lighthouse. The invaders ended their four-hour occupation when a posse of U.S. marshals convinced them to leave.

The "invasion" had all the trappings of a publicity stunt, but the Indians said they were dead serious in their claim.

An 1868 treaty with the Sioux nation, they said, entitles members of the tribe off the reservation to claim unoccupied government land. Alcatraz Island has been in that category since last year when all federal prisoners were removed.

After the claim was staked, the warriors then invited their Indian friends to pick out their home sites.

Members of the invading party, all members in good standing in the Bay Area Branch of the American Indian Council, are known in daily life as Allen Cottier, Richard McKenzie, Martin Martinez, Garfield Spotted Elk and Walter Means.

Their attorney, Elliott Leighton, said the Sioux will now carry their claim into the courts.

Leighton indicated his clients were willing to pay for the land at the present price set for California land by the government, which is 47 cents an acre for the 22 and one-half acre island.

The wood ibis, which is actually a stork, "Mycteria Americana," eats more than a third of its weight each day.

Mill Valley To Close Steps Behind Mortuary

The set of about 75 rickety wood steps behind Russell and Gooch Mortuary at 270 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, will be barricaded top and bottom as soon as possible, City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer said today.

Action to close the steps leading from Miller Avenue to Ethel Avenue, with another set up to Woodside Lane, followed a complaint Saturday by Jerry Gooch, mortuary partner, who declared the steps "dangerous and said he was writing to Mayor Joseph E. Sheeks asking that something be done.

The city had placed a sign, "Not City Maintained," on either end of the steps.

Meanwhile a group of citizens in the Elinor Avenue area took matters into their own hands over the weekend and began rebuilding a dozen steps leading up from Elinor to a pathway which exits on Hillside Avenue.

"We had a run-in with the city trying to get them to repair them," said Mrs. Victor Grant of 100 Elinor Avenue today. "They looked the law up and said, if we repair them the city would maintain them provided they were brought up to city standards."

Grant, Warren Erskine, Vito Norich and Holbrook T. Mitchell worked Saturday and yesterday on the steps. Mrs. Grant said, and intend to finish their work next weekend. "The women gave moral support and brought beer," she added.

On completion the neighbors installed signs near the city's "Not City Maintained" sign, one reading "Grant, St. Mill Valley, No." and another "Be-ware Mad Owner."

"I'm re-examining the present city policy on the maintenance of trails to see if any change is necessary," Balmer reported.

"The city's present policy from 1958 is that certain trails were accepted to be maintained in their existing condition. It did not mean to replace them. This is the same as with the Class 'B' streets. When it comes to repairing, if they are not up to city standards, it is up to the property owner to repair them."

Steps along the Dipsea Trail and on Gardner Street should be rebuilt and cannot be properly maintained in their present condition, according to a report today from Ross Benson, superintendent of public works.

A man was reported to have fallen recently, breaking his ankle, on the Gardner Street steps.

Benson has recommended closing two sections of the Dipsea Trail to the walking public: Ocean Way and Hale Lane.

Mill Valley Center Moved

One-half the job of moving the Mill Valley Community and Youth Center from its shoring and jacks to a permanent concrete slab beneath the building was accomplished during the weekend by volunteer labor.

The rest of the job is expected to be done this coming weekend, G. W. Robertson, Recco 17 member said today.

"The Mill Valley Lions Club did the lion's share of the work," said Robertson, assisted by Recco members and two teen-agers.

Hub Man Burned

A San Anselmo man suffered minor burns when fire broke out in a closet of his home Saturday.

Dan Adair of 45 Allen Avenue, was burned on one hand as he attempted to extinguish the fire, which blistered paint, charred a shelf in the closet and caused smoke damage. It was put out by San Anselmo firemen.

Hub Council Gets

Other items on the agenda are a request to increase the Yellow Cab Co. fleet from three to four cabs, a preliminary design of the Center Boulevard bridge area, and a report on the countywide uniform dog control ordinance.

Demos Divided In Engle-Brown Row

SACRAMENTO (AP) — An important week in California politics opens today with Democrats divided over Sen. Clair Engle's bitter denunciation of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The Democratic senator, partially paralyzed after brain surgery, issued a statement late Saturday accusing Brown of trying to destroy him politically.

Brown denied it. He again said he'd support Engle if convinced that he's well enough to run. In the meantime, he

Inmates Face Hearing In Yard Scuffle

San Quentin cellmates Donald Emery, 23, and Francis Duckey, 27, who were involved in a scuffle in the prison yard Saturday morning, may face felony charges resulting from the incident.

Emery was wounded by a gun tower guard as he allegedly attacked another guard who was attempting to search Duckey, who had a razor-sharp steel ruler.

Both men were placed in isolation until tomorrow when the incident will be reviewed by the prison's disciplinary committee, which will set punishment for the men and decide if felonies were committed, according to Associate Warden Dale B. Frady.

The men may face up to 29-day sentences in isolation and Superior Court trials if the committee decides felonies were committed, Frady said.

Emery, of San Joaquin County, entered San Quentin in August, 1961, to serve a six-month to five years for attempted escape from Deuel Vocational Institution at Tracy.

Duckey, an Inyo County car thief, arrived at San Quentin last June on a six-month to five-year sentence.

$1,500 Harm Done To Lunch Trucks

Someone attempting to enter eight refrigerated lunch trucks at 375 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, last night caused damage estimated at $1,500 to the trucks.

Nothing was taken, except possibly a couple of candy bars, San Rafael police reported. The attempted burglary took place between 6 p.m. yesterday and 4:15 a.m. today, police said.

Albert R. Willis of 29 Prospect Drive, San Rafael, owner of the trucks, estimated the damage.

Police also received a report of a burglary at the R. J. Fassi Distributing Co., 18 Woodland Avenue, about midnight Friday.

Fassi estimated that 14 cases of beer were taken. Police said there was no evidence of forced entry.

Heavy Fighting Rages On Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (UPI) — The heaviest fighting of the current crisis raged in several areas of Cyprus today and the Turkish government threatened to intervene on this Mediterranean Island if the clashes continue.

Diplomatic observers said Cyprus was dangerously near the brink of all-out civil war as cease-fire efforts failed in several areas where Greek Cypriots and Turkish Cypriots were locked in battle.

In Ankara, Turkish Information minister Ali Ihsan Gogus said Turkey considers the Cyprus situation "extremely serious."

BRIDGE

land, federally owned, should be easy, Shaffer said.

His bridge would have seven more lanes than the existing largest bridge in the world—the Narrows suspension bridge in New York City—and is far more massive than the only other existing large single tower suspension bridge in the world, one crossing the Rhein River in Germany.

Shaffer compares his plans with those in the state public works publication:

First, he said, 21 lanes are offered instead of 12 by the State's plan. Shaffer's design calls for only two anchorages, the "Hanging Garden" anchorage on Jefferson Street at Pier 43 in San Francisco, and the one near Angel Island. The alternative plan, he said, would have seven.

The additional anchorage, according to Shaffer, would involve tremendous costs and work of planting underwater foundations, to say nothing of navigational hazards for shipping.

Too, Shaffer claims that the beauty of his bridge far exceeds the other proposal. Cost estimate by Shaffer of his bridge to the second anchorage is 182 million dollars, which he said is probably a high estimate, at that. Total cost to a Tiburon peninsula point is 402 million dollars. He said the state did not even estimate the cost of its plan.

Shaffer said a bridge of his proposal would have "incalculable benefits to Marin County and the entire northern and central part of California. Results, he added, would be evidenced economically as far north as Seattle, Wash.

"It would be the greatest single thing ever to happen to Marin County and Northern California since the Golden Gate Bridge," he said.

Does he intend to promote his bridge idea? "No," the designer said. "I'm going to do nothing more." He said he just hopes Marin residents and officials have more foresight and initiative than those "damn fools" in San Francisco who, he said, will wait until the difficult traffic problem is completely impossible before anything is done.

Although Chicago-born Shaffer had only a sixth grade formal education, he has done engineering designs ranging from freeways to moving sidewalks to a submarine fresh water pipeline. He once proposed a design for a floating bridge across the Golden Gate.

His inventions include a liquid rocket motor and a gun that, he says, was the basis of the widely known bazooka.

Demo Caucus Backs Rumford

More than 400 Democrats from the First Congressional District, including a dozen from Marin, attended a district caucus at Ukiah Saturday which adopted a resolution asking the people to oppose the initiative that would nullify the Rumford Act and other fair housing legislation.

The resolution was introduced by Thomas A. Skornia of Mill Valley, moved by Max Kortum of Penngrove, and seconded by Hans J. Schiller of Mill Valley.

State Controller Alan Cranston, who seeks the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate, was main speaker Saturday night.

Clauses Opposed Peace Corps Cut

Don H. Clausen (R-Crescent City), representative to Congress from the First Congressional District, voted against a motion to reduce appropriations for the Peace Corps by 19 million dollars.

The House rejected the motion 90 to 309 last week. Ninety-three Republicans voted to reject the motion, and 71 Republicans for it. Democrats rejected the motion 216 to 19.

Redwood Students Grill Visitor About South African Segregation

By JENNIE JONES
Redwood High School Student

When a supporter of complete segregation of the races holds a press conference for high school journalism students in California, she is asked many penetrating questions.

That's what happened at Redwood High School when the chief research officer for the secondary schools in the Republic of South Africa visited the campus last week.

Dr. Ruth M. Ruperti, a supporter of South Africa's present "apartheid" policy that required every inhabitant of the country carry a card that identifies him as "white," "Asian," or "colored," spent a day at Redwood during a two-week stay in the Bay Area.

Redwood was the seventh American school she had visited on her three-month tour of the United States, which was made possible by a Carnegie Foundation grant to allow her to observe the nation's secondary school system.

"The biggest racial conflict in the Republic of South Africa does not stem from hate between the races but is caused by Communist-inspired agitators who infiltrate from the north," she told the students.

She said, "We have three kinds of people: the whites, Caucasians of European descent; the 'colored' people, a mixed race descending from slaves brought from the Dutch East Indies by the original white settlers; and the blacks or Bantu, native Africans who make up the vast majority of the non-white population."

She stressed that total segregation in her country was practiced not "because of hatred between the races but because of the belief of both whites and non-whites that because of their vastly different cultures, it would be impossible to live together in harmony."

"We're all very good friends but totally different," she explained.

Army Accused Of Training, Then Misplacing Soldiers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army was accused in congressional testimony made public today of putting 35,000 soldiers in the wrong jobs and wasting more than 48 million dollars in training funds.

The charge was voiced during closed hearings of the House Defense appropriations subcommittee headed by Rep. George H. Mahon (D-Tex.).

Mahon confronted the Army with a report by the General

Accounting Office (GAO) blaming the situation on "a personnel management system that generates misassignments."

Mahon called it "a pretty serious indictment."

He ticked off examples showing that some highly trained Army helicopter mechanics in Korea have been given jobs as lifeguards, dog handlers and company clerks. At Fort Leavenworth, Kan., he said, a soldier who had 13 weeks of specialized training in aircraft maintenance was assigned as a military policeman.

"These kinds of examples have been presented in correspondence to members of Congress and in reports and so forth for a long time," Mahon said, "but these abuses continue to exist."

Demo Precinct Chairman Named

Peter Allen Smith, Marin Democratic Central Committee chairman, today announced appointment of Mrs. Olive Lewis of San Rafael as county precinct chairman.

Secretary of the Marin Council of Democratic Clubs and former executive secretary of the Marin Democrats, Mrs. Lewis has been an active volunteer for five years. She has been serving as registration chairman for the first supervisorial district.

Mrs. Lewis succeeds Mrs. Elaine Guthrie. A member of the Democratic State Central Committee, Mrs. Guthrie resigned the precinct post to take a leading role in the Vera Schultz for State Senate campaign and in Cranston for United States Senate campaign.

Drowned Doctor's Body Recovered

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Skin-divers yesterday recovered the body of Dr. Alan Fixler, a San Francisco surgeon who drowned in Lake Merced Saturday when his sailboat capsized.

Fixler, 38, had just acquired the 12-foot boat and was having trouble learning how to handle it, witnesses said. Minutes before it keeled over he had transferred his three children to a larger craft.

The body of the orthopedic surgeon was recovered by police and fire department divers after a search for several hours Saturday night was put off because of darkness.

Gift Money Taken

Someone who apparently hid in Milani's Lounge, 848 B Street, San Rafael, early Saturday, took from $20 to $25 from a charity coin container, San Rafael police reported today.

The theft took place between 3 a.m. and 7:30 a.m. Saturday, police said.

Novato Trustees To Consider Needs Of High School

Robert Wisgerhof, principal of Novato High School, will evaluate the needs of that school tonight for Novato Unified School District trustees meeting in the administration building.

After one semester as principal of the high school, Wisgerhof will outline his plan for next year and make his recommendations for changes in the curriculum and staff needs.

The board will also hear the teacher's salary committee requests for next school year.

Other items to come before the board include annexation of the Pleasant Valley School site to the Novato Sanitary District, and discussion of the Unruh bill to create county-wide school districts.

KIDNEY BEING SOUGHT TO SAVE GIRL'S LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Doctors trying to save the life of a Sacramento teen-age girl are looking for someone who'll donate a kidney for a transplant operation.

Vickie Lee, 13, is critically ill at the University of California Medical Center, suffering from an ailment which has inflamed and slowly destroyed both her kidneys for the past four years. Her condition became grave two weeks ago.

Vickie's mother planned to donate a kidney—but doctors said Sunday that Mrs. Lee is physically unable to do so.

Doctors said the donors should be in good health, preferably a female less than 45 years old and have type O blood.

The first kidney transplant surgery in the western United States was performed at U.C. Medical Center less than a year ago.

Dixie Block Starting Civil Rights Battle

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Southern senators vowing "no compromise" fought the first skirmish of the Senate civil rights battle today by forcing a reading of the usually-ignored journal.

Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the Dixie bloc, persisting with the reading of the preceding day's business and announced he would also offer an amendment to it.

The move was the first in a series of parliamentary tactics that were expected to lead to a full-fledged filibuster.

Russell told the Senate his objection to the request by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield was to enable senators to give their views at the outset on why they felt the House-passed civil rights bill should go to committee for hearings.

Before the session began, Southern senators caucused and again agreed they would not back down or compromise in the fight.

Russell said after the caucus that Southerners would debate "at considerable length" any effort to take up the bill.

He said, however, the Southerners would join in any unanimous consent agreement to send the bill back to the judiciary committee with instructions to bring it back to the floor after a specified number of days.

But, Russell said, he would block any motion to send the bill back to committee without assurances that no effort to table the motion would be made. A tabling motion would not be debatable and would cut off the Southerners.

Mansfield told newsmen he would not agree to letting the civil rights bill go to committee "under any circumstances" and reaffirmed that he expects the Senate fight to go on "for months."

He said he intends to keep Russell and the entire Senate "informed" of his plan in the debate. He announced that while the Senate will move into extended sessions "gradually" by meeting at noon this week, it will have a Saturday session.

'Dud' Explosion Kills 3 Marines, Hurts 2 Others

TWENTY-NINE PALMS (UPI)—Three Marines were killed and two others were injured Saturday when what they thought was "dud" ammunition exploded near the conclusion of desert training exercises.

An investigator said an old aircraft ordnance fuse used to detonate a bomb was responsible.

Preliminary investigation indicated one of the five men found the fuse and all five had gathered to look at it, thinking it was a "dud"—live ammunition that has misfired or failed to fire.

Killed were Pvt. Jack W. Cowser, 17, son of Mrs. Gloria L. Cowser of Oakland; Pvt. David P. Barnes, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl J. Barnes of St. Louis, Mo.; and Cpl. Peter S. Lopez, 22, husband of Mrs. Fye A. Lopez of Twenty-nine Palms.

The injured were Lance Cpl. Roger D. Ruskak, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. Ruskak of Chicago; and Pfc. Gary P. Betters, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Betters, also of Chicago. They were reported in satisfactory condition at San Diego Naval Hospital.

Workshop Razed In $8,000 Tam Valley Blaze

Fire, fed by paints and paint solvent, destroyed a workshop and storage shed at 11:42 p.m. Saturday in Tamalpais Valley.

Owner G. C. Kott of 11 Forest Street, Mill Valley, told firemen his loss in equipment and shed at 227 Shoreline Highway was $8,000.

An electric arc welder being used by Kott's son, Jim, was believed to have caused the fire.

Twenty-three men from Tamalpais Fire Department fought the blaze, which endangered nearby Brabo and Enos Plumbing Co. at the same address and scorched the side of the San Francisco Chronicle newspaper shed, also adjacent to the Kott workshop.

Lt. Henry Braun was treated for burns on both wrists and his left shoulder at Marin General Hospital.

Shuttlesworth Conviction Is Reversed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today reversed the conviction of Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, integration leader, who drew 180 days in jail on a charge of interfering with Birmingham police during a 1961 "freedom rider" incident.

Shuttlesworth has since moved from Birmingham to Cincinnati.

He was arrested at the Greyhound Bus Station when "riders" bound for Montgomery were trying to find a bus to take them there.

The minister was charged with refusing to leave the station and with getting between the group and Police Chief Jamie Moore.

(Shuttlesworth spoke recently in Marin County on the integration movement.)

Shelley Hit For Part In Hotel Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Mayor John F. Shelley has been sharply criticized by one of his predecessors for the part he played in developing an agreement to end the 22-hour civil rights demonstration at the Sheraton-Palace Hotel.

"Your failure to take the aggressive action needed stands out as an example of what not to do," Roger D. Lapham declared in a telegram to Shelley.

Lapham was San Francisco's mayor from 1944 to 1948.

"I only hope that from your ceding to the demands of a pressure group other similar actions may not take place," Lapham said.

An equal opportunity employment agreement was signed in Shelley's office Saturday by the San Francisco Hotel Employer's Assn. and members of a protest group which had picketed the Sheraton-Palace. The pickets had charged the hotel was guilty of racial bias in its hiring policies.

The agreement ended the city's largest civil rights demonstration, during which 167 pickets were arrested.

2 Jailed For False Alarm

Two men, apparently playing a prank, were arrested by Sausalito police last night after they were seen by a passer-by pulling a fire alarm box at Bridgeway, and Princess Street.

Ronald James Bryan, 29, of Daly City and Robert William Robertson, 28, of San Francisco, were booked at county jail on charges of unlawfully setting off a fire alarm and suspicion of conspiracy to unlawfully set off a fire alarm.

Both posted $1,376 bail and are to appear in Municipal Court Thursday at 1:30 p.m.

A pedestrian witnessed the men, accompanied by two women in their car, pull the fire alarm at 7:03 p.m. and got the car's license number, H. Huck said today. Police telephoned the toll plaza at Golden Gate Bridge, where the car was stopped and the occupants were turned over to Sausalito police.

Car Runs Away

The car of Sharon Buck of 3 Magee Avenue (Mill Valley), while parked at 164 Throckmorton Avenue at 7:55 p.m. yesterday, became a "runaway," leaped a curb and punctured the plaster wall of Doud's Moving and Storage, 157 Throckmorton Avenue. No one was in the car, police said.

COVENTRY, England (UPI)—Canon Graham Clitheroe, the 80-year-old clergyman of Holy Trinity Church, has been forced to give up his motorcycle—and his job.

Clitheroe has been unable to renew his motorcycle license so he is retiring because he would be unable to travel throughout his widely scattered parish without it.

SUPERVISORS FACE BOUNDARIES ISSUE

Board To Be Confronted With Pending Court Action On Redrawing Districts

The Marin County Board of Supervisors again will be confronted with pending court action on the drawing of supervisorial district boundaries as they go into their meeting tomorrow at the Civic Center.

The state supreme court has ordered a county representative to appear March 16 for a hearing on a taxpayers' suit in an attempt to force the board to change the boundaries to make all districts approximately equal in population.

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney has suggested that the supervisors discuss county defense against the suit at the regular board meeting.

The board is also expected to formally approve the request for inclusion of the county in the state Short-Doyle mental health program, to include for the last six weeks of the 1963-64 fiscal year the present consultant services by psychiatrists and the diagnostic services now given at Ross General Hospital.

A contract to spend between $3,500 and $4,000 for the design and construction of an exhibit at the California State Fair will be proposed by County Administrator Alan Bruce. Bruce said in a letter to the board there will be enough money in this year's budget to pay first installments on the project.

Bids will be opened on three major public works projects in the afternoon. They are phase 1 of Lucas Valley Road improvement, replacement of Lagunitas Road bridge and drainage improvements on Montecito Road, Trestle Glen Drive and Auburn Street.

Resolutions from the Parks and Recreation Commission that the county purchase Rat Island near China Camp and that the board appropriate funds for the Marin City total education program will be presented to the supervisors.

So will a recommendation from the county personnel commission that in the future, salaries be reviewed only once a year, at budget time, rather

9 Counties Redistrict

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Nine counties have been forced to realign their supervisorial district boundaries in the wake of a State Supreme Court decision last August, a survey showed today.

The boundary shifting in the districts brought to 29 the number of counties in which a majority of the population elects a majority of the supervisors.

The figures are contained in a survey taken by the County Supervisors Assn. of California.

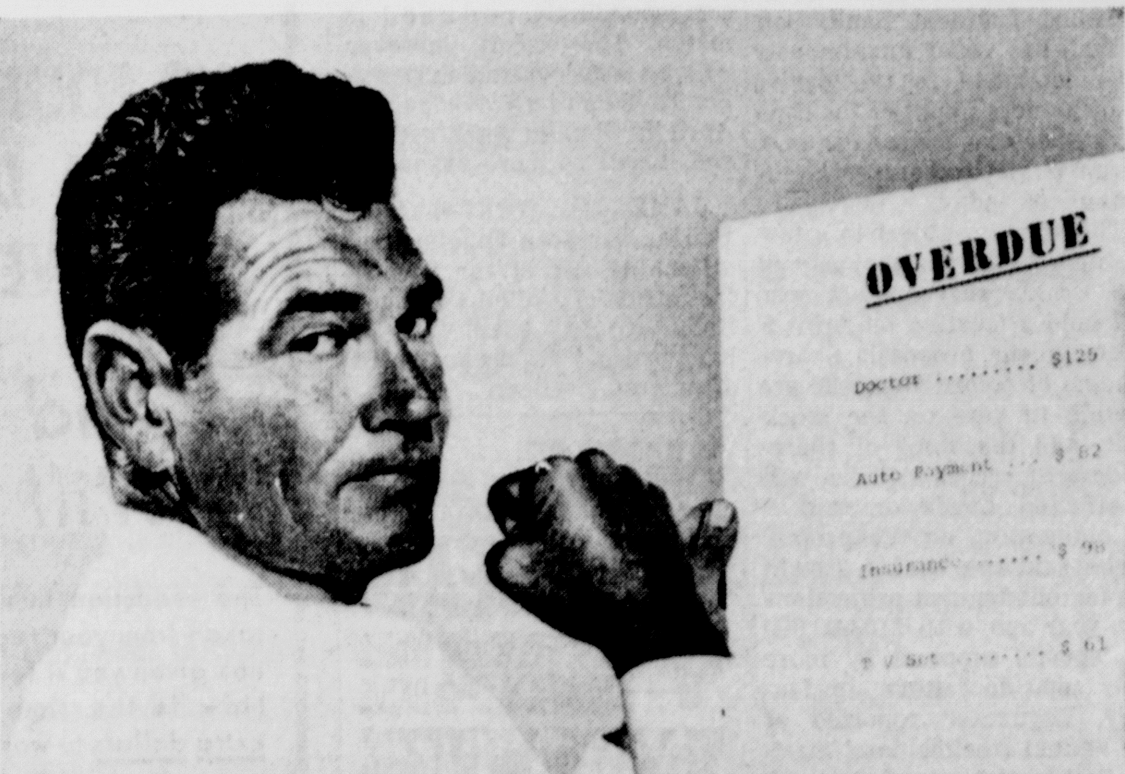

The standard that must be met, the court said, was that districts within a county must be "as nearly equal in population as may be"—considering such factors as mountains and common interests of the people.

The nine counties that have redistricted under court order since the high court ruling, the Association said, were Contra Costa, Lassen, Mendocino, Monterey, San Benito, Shasta, Yolo, Marin and Sonoma—although Sonoma's plan has been challenged and is now before the supreme court and Marin faces a hearing March 15.

The survey showed that a majority rule, ranging from a margin of 50.09 per cent in San Joaquin County to 56.9 per cent in Fresno County, was now in effect in the counties of Butte, Calaveras, Colusa, Contra Costa, Fresno, Humboldt, Kings, Lassen, Los Angeles, Madera, Mendocino, Monterey, Plumas, Riverside, Sacramento, San Benito, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Francisco, San Joaquin, San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Shasta, Sierra, Siskiyou, Sonoma, Tehama, Tulare and Yolo.

The survey showed 10 other counties were within "a whisker" of majority rule while nine others were giving "serious consideration" to redistricting.

23 Women At Ross Valley Savings Wear Different Colors Each Day

Have you noticed the changing color scheme at Ross Valley Savings and Loan Assn. in San Anselmo?

Ever since the grand opening of the new offices a couple of weeks ago, all the women employees there have been on a chromatic dress cycle, rotating colors five days a week. It has become part of the interior decorations.

So far the daily dress-alike program has worked out uniformly among the 23 ladies involved. Only once was there a slip when one of them lost track of the color sequence and showed up one morning wearing green when blue was the order of the day. She made a hasty retreat home to change.

They pay half the cost of keeping up the wardrobe expense, and Ross Valley pays the other half. John Robert in the Montecito Shopping Center, San Rafael made the dresses.

Taylor Variety in Novato is being sold by William Taylor to Samuel and Clifford Glicksman (father and son), former operators of the Metropolitan market in San Francisco. The business will go along under the corporate name of Taylor Variety, Inc. The sale was made by Edwin Kingsland of Redmond Realty.

Taylor has another store in Pinole called Valley Variety which he also intends to sell and then go into something else—he hasn't said just what this may be. The Glicksmans will take over in Novato March 16.

Race announcing is a tricky job, says the magazine editor, requiring a glib tongue, an ability to build up suspense and of course a knowledge of cars and racing. All of these has Smith.

A NEW CIRCUIT, micro-miniature in size, is being introduced by Zenith Radio Corp. for use in hearing aids, according to Physicians Optical Co., San Rafael. It's so small that 10 of them can be stacked into a space no larger than a matchhead. The circuit, however, will be incorporated in a new Zenith hearing available in April in limited quantities—and it will be more expensive.

EVERETT PALMER
To manage Tiburon Safeway

New Tiburon Safeway Open Wednesday

Tiburon's new Safeway Store with the pyramid shaped roof will open Wednesday with a staff of 42 employees.

The opening will be marked by a 9 a.m. ribbon-cutting ceremony in which civic and company officials will participate. The store is in Fred G. Zelinsky's new shopping center across from the Belvedere Boardwalk.

Manager of the 20,500-square foot market is Everett Palmer, a Safeway employee of 13 years. Palmer got his start in 1951 as a food clerk in the San Anselmo Safeway store and became store manager in 1955. He has since managed Safeway units in San Francisco, and most recently in Richmond. He and his wife, Jacqueline, and their two children live in San Rafael.

TAX FACTS

Alimony Pay Usually Deductible

By P. J. WIKEL, C.P.A.

Alimony payments are usually deductible by the person who makes the payment and are taxable income to the recipient.

If you are entitled to deduct alimony payments, you must itemize your deductions on Form 1040. You cannot deduct alimony if you take the standard deduction, use the tax table, or file on Form 1040A.

If you are divorced or legally separated from your wife, alimony or separate maintenance payments you make will be deductible by you, and taxable to your wife, provided the payments meet certain requirements:

First: The payments must be required by the decree or another written instrument incident to the decree.

Second: They must be paid because of a legal obligation arising out of the marital relationship.

Third: They must be paid after the decree, and they must be periodic payments.

Periodic payments are payments which extend over a period greater than 10 years, or where it is impossible to figure the total amount that will be paid, such as in the case when payments are based on the husband's income, or where they can stop if the wife remarries or dies.

But where the alimony payment is in a lump sum, or where it is a fixed amount paid in installments over a period of 10 years or less, then it is not deductible by the husband or taxable to the wife.

It is important to note that child support payments are never deductible by the husband, nor are they taxable to the wife.

Child support payments are never deductible by the husband, nor are they taxable to the wife.

Redwood Bank Directors Vote Stock Split

The board of directors of Redwood National Bank, San Rafael, has voted unanimously to recommend to the bank's shareholders a split of the capital stock—two shares for one, Byron W. Leydecker, president, announced today.

The split is subject to a favorable vote by the majority of the bank's shareholders who will hold a meeting on April 6 to decide the proposal. Shareholders of record March 26 are eligible to vote on the stock split, and the stock of shareholders of record April 6 will be affected, Leydecker said.

Commenting on the proposal, he said the bank's growth has far outstripped projections of a year ago, with $10,600,000 in deposits supplied by more than 3,000 depositors. In January, Leydecker reported at the annual stockholders' meeting that total assets of the bank had grown to $12,400,000 in its first year of operation, and that the bank had shown a profit.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Medical Science Able To Keep Leukemia Patients Alive Longer

The last three beds on the west side of our ward at county hospital were occupied by victims of leukemia. One was 18 years old and the other two were over 55. All had white blood counts in excess of 25,000 (normal 5,000 to 10,000).

The young man had acute leukemia, the variety most common in children and young adults. Jack was critically ill and looked it. He was pale, feverish, and uncomfortable. Many of the glands in his neck were enlarged though not tender to the touch. His skin was black and blue in several areas because of hemorrhages under the surface. A few of these marks had become infected and broke down into open sores.

THE OTHER two men had the chronic type of the disease. They were not as sick as Jack but they had been hospitalized for a much longer time. Their stories were essentially the same, even though they had different forms of the disease.

The patient with chronic lymphatic leukemia had involvement of the lymphatic glands in the neck, chest, armpits, and groin. Some of the nodes were so big, they protruded from the neck like knobs. The swollen glands in the chest pressed on the bronchi and the under side of the breastbone. X-ray treatments reduced their size and relieved distress from this source.

THE THIRD man had chronic myelocytic leukemia. His spleen and liver were enlarged, in contrast to the lymph nodes of the man with lymphatic leukemia. He sought medical care because of a bulging abdomen and indigestion, gas, and pain. In addition, he was weak and anemic.

These men were hospitalized in 1938. The older patients lived out their life expectancy. The young man survived only three months after developing the disease. This is typical of what happened in acute leukemia in those days. Today we are able to prolong life a year or more with isotopes, X-ray, and various chemical agents. If current research pays off, it may be possible to keep some of these persons alive indefinitely.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

REPLY
Emphysema is the leading chronic disease of the lungs and the major single cause of disability of pulmonary origin. It occurs more frequently than lung cancer.

KIDNEY DISEASE
Mrs. H. writes: How is nephrosis treated in a 4-year-old?

REPLY
This kidney condition responds to the use of one of the adrenocortical steroids like prednisone or ACTH. A nutritious diet, rich in protein, is advisable. Diuretic drugs also are used for waterlogged tissues.

STOMACH IS FLEXIBLE
L. B. writes: I'm a 16-year-old boy and like to drink a quart of milk at a time. My mother thinks this will stretch the stomach. Is this likely?

REPLY
No. The stomach can hold a quart of liquid without being overstretched.

LEAD POISONING
N. L. writes: Could house painting affect the liver?

REPLY
No. If lead poisoning should occur thru ingestion of paint, the intestine, nervous system, blood, and bones would be the areas involved.

Woman Riding A Motorcycle Critically Hurt In Accident

A 29-year-old Petaluma woman was in critical condition today at Marin General Hospital after she was thrown off a motorcycle Saturday on Highway 101, two miles north of the Novato city limits.

Barbara Ball, 29, was in the hospital's intensive care unit with a skull fracture, a broken right shoulder, and broken ribs.

Miss Ball was a passenger on a motorcycle being driven southbound on the highway at 6 p.m. by Bill Edward Buttrey, 26, of 61 Dominga Avenue, Fairfax. They were following a cycle driven by James Rogers Dehnert, 41, of Rohnert Park.

Dehnert lost control of his motorcycle and was thrown to the pavement. Buttrey, according to the California Highway Patrol, swerved left and knocked a metal post down in the divider strip. Buttrey and his passenger, Miss Dehnert, were thrown into the northbound lanes of Highway 101.

Dehnert was treated at Novato General Hospital for multiple cuts. Buttrey was treated at the same hospital for face cuts and cuts on his left knee. Miss Ball was treated at Novato General Hospital and transferred to Marin General Hospital.

Stephen Moore, 21, of 74 Morning Sun Avenue, Homestead Valley, was in good condition at Marin General Hospital today with multiple face cuts after the motorcycle he was driving was forced off Shoreline Highway by another vehicle at 8 p.m.

Moore was driving south on the highway, about one and one-half mile south of Stinson Beach, when a northbound car forced him to take a wide turn on a curve. His car ran onto the pitted shoulder of the road, and plunged 15 feet down a cliff. He was thrown off onto some rocks, according to the highway patrol.

John Joseph Kenny, 12, of 311 Vendola Drive, Santa Venetia, was treated for cuts on his right leg and left elbow Saturday at San Rafael General Hospital after the bicycle he was riding ran into the rear of a car.

James Boyd Kane, 23, of 177 D Street, San Rafael, was driving north on Merridale Road, when the boy ran his bicycle into the car at 5:05 p.m., according to the highway patrol.

Joseph Harris Jr., 18, of Richmond was treated at Marin General Hospital Saturday night for a cut lower lip and multiple cuts and bruises.

A car registered to Harris ran into a home at Buckalew and Burgess Streets, Marin City, at 9:30 p.m. Saturday. The highway patrol said Harris was also involved in an accident last Tuesday near the Ebbtide Apartments in Sausalito when the brakes on his car failed.

The driver of the car that hit the house was not at the scene when highway patrol officers arrived.

Singer Plays On Despite Ailment

PASADENA (AP) — "The good Lord willing," Ethel Waters explained.

The 63-year-old actress finished an engagement last night at the Pasadena Playhouse as Bernice Sadie Brown in "Member of the Wedding" — a role she created on Broadway 13 years ago.

Two nights before she had suffered a heart attack during the show. Since then, she has played the part three times.

"I had to finish the performance," Miss Waters said after the attack. "Those people came to see me. They didn't know how I felt."

State Is Planning Big Water Project

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state is planning a big north coastal water project that would in effect, make the Eel River run backward to supply the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced Saturday that the Upper Eel River Project, estimated at more than 200 million dollars, has been added to the State Water Project.

The project would consist of a series of dams, reservoirs, tunnels, power houses and pumps to store Eel River water in Lake and Mendocino counties and ship it through the Coast Range to bolster the delta's supplies.

The delta is to be the pooling place for surplus northern water marked for shipment to Southern California under the multi-billion dollar state water plan.

The estimated yield from the Upper Eel River Project would be 800,000 to one million acre-feet, compared with a three and one-half million acre-foot yield from the Oroville Dam, key unit of the State Water Plan.

"It has been recognized for many years that surplus water in north coastal area streams would eventually be tapped to replace diminishing water supplies in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta," Brown said.

With indications that the extra supply will be needed by the 1970s, the Resources Agency ordered the start of detailed planning this year.

Hugo Fisher, administrator of the agency, said all uses of the water, including recreation and protection and enhancement of fish and wildlife, had been considered.

The Eel is a prime producer of salmon and steelhead, and the dams envisioned in the project would block some 300,000 from their spawning grounds. Hatcheries presumably would replace the natural fishery.

The water would be transported out of its own drainage into the Sacramento River watershed by one of two means: Pumped diversion to a reservoir on the upper Eel, through a 14-mile tunnel to Clear Lake, then down Putah Creek to an expanded Lake Berryessa, then on down Putak Creek to the Sacramento; or Gravity diversion through a 22-mile tunnel to the proposed Glenn Reservoir Complex in Glenn and Tehama counties, through creeks to the existing Black Butte Reservoir, then down Stony Creek to the Sacramento.

Funds would be from the $1.75 billion water bond issue approved by the voters in 1960.

Egyptian Planes Reported Downed

JEDDAH, Saudi Arabia (UPI) — Yemeni royalists with captured Russian-made guns have shot down two Egyptian Il-yushin bombers in Yemen, royalist reports reaching here today claimed.

A communique from the headquarters of deposed Yemeni Imam El-Badr, who was overthrown by the Egyptian-backed republicans in 1962, claimed royalists killed 3,000 opponents in January and February in operations to block roads.

No confirmation of the claims could be obtained from other sources.

Tiny, Insignificant Ad Packs A Mighty Wallop

Consider, if you will, the lowly want ad.

It is the little atom of advertising. It is tiny and insignificant in appearance, but it packs a mighty wallop.

Harlow Curtice, one of General Motors' most successful presidents, got his first job with the great auto manufacturing firm by answering a help wanted ad.

The want ad pages—dignified nowadays by designation as classified advertising—are the people's market place where an individual with anything to sell is likely to find a buyer, and where almost any material want may be fulfilled.

This is National Want Ad Week and to observe it the I-J offers individuals the opportunity to place want ads seven times for the regular price of only four insertions.

This is done to acquaint even more people with the mighty wallop packed by the tiny and insignificant want ad. (It can ring your phone almost off the wall.)

Last year, during March, the I-J printed 29,666 separate want ads. We'll not be surprised if the total this month reaches 35,000. (Want ads were up about 5,000 per month during January and February this year.)

Like Jack's Beanstalk

Marin County has plenty of weeds to irritate the gardener. A wide and vigorous abundance thrive here.

Blackberries grow like Jack's proverbial beanstalk. Marin's temperate climate makes monsters out of some ordinary weeds.

Right now most weeds are small and

We are, as the saying goes, bursting at the seams. Last year, we printed more than 333,000 want ads, a gain of more than 44,000 over 1962. The way this year has started, we expect an even greater gain for 1964, we are finding it hard to keep up with the growth.

Last year, 16 young ladies were employed in our classified advertising department; now we have 19. And we need more room before we can do much in the way of expanding the department further to keep up with the growth.

We have had to add to the typesetting equipment in the mechanical department, and we expect we will have further additions before the year is out. Other factors contribute to the need for this expansion, but growth of the want ad columns is among the most pressing pressures.

For four straight years, the I-J has won international recognition for its want ad week observance, first place among all newspapers of the I-J's class in the United States and Canada.

Actually, our readers, who use our classified pages to buy and sell, have made this possible. And we would like during National Want Ad Week to acknowledge this and say "Thank you all very much."

young and tender and easily dealt with. At this stage they are quite susceptible to chemical weed killers. That's why Papa or Mama may look a little ludicrous this month out in the garden on their hands and knees, daubing the weeds with a paint brush.

SENATE RACE WITHDRAWAL

Records Show Mosk Has Spent Heavily On His Other Campaigns

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — When Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk withdrew from the race for the U.S. Senate, he said it would require too much money—either in contributions from friends or from other contributions which might involve obligations.

Mosk put the price tag on a primary campaign at $628,160.

Records in the archives of Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan show that Mosk has reported collecting $723,597 in contributions in his two previous campaigns.

Mosk narrowed the race for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate to two with his withdrawal — State Controller Alan Cranston, who has the endorsements of most of the top Democrats, as well as the California Democratic Council, and Sen. Clair Engle (D-Red Bluff), veteran lawmaker who is ailing and who many top Democrats say is not physically able to run.

MOSK'S BRIEF statement on pulling out of the race did not express any support or endorsement for either candidate. On the contrary, he said that "every poll taken indicates I would win."

His withdrawal came less than 24 hours after Gov. Edmund G. Brown said he had told Mosk he ought to get out of the race. Brown said the pre-campaign exchanges between Mosk and Cranston had showed bitterness and "I felt that it wouldn't be good for the Democratic party to have two Democrats at each other's throats for the next three or four months."

Mosk's statement said he had decided not to enter the race for U.S. Senate, despite the polls.

"MY PRELIMINARY budget for a victorious primary contest came to $628,160," Mosk said. "The final election campaign would cost more than that sum."

"I am unwilling to impose on my personal friends to give and to raise that tremendous sum of money," he said. "I am equally unwilling to accept the obligations implicit in sizable contributions from those who are not motivated by friendship."

"This factor disturbs me and must be of concern to thoughtful members of both parties, for representation in the world's greatest legislative body should be selected in a manner related to qualifications rather than to resources," Mosk said.

MOSK SAID he had estimated a campaign for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate would cost $628,160, including $203,960 for television; $105,200 for outdoor advertising; $93,000 for newspapers; $90,000 for literature and mailing; $83,000 for headquarters and personnel and $53,000 for radio.

Records in the secretary of state's archives indicate Mosk has collected considerable money for campaigns in the past. Under the California reporting system, only total amounts must be listed. While the reports show thousands of names of contributors, they do not show how much each person contributed.

The records show these expenditures for Mosk in his previous campaigns: 1958 primary, $87,087; 1958 general, $187,740; 1962 primary, $98,721; and 1962 general, $350,058.

MEANWHILE, Cranston said he was "delighted" that Mosk had decided not to run "because he would have been a strong opponent." Cranston, who already has said he expects to have a well-financed campaign, added:

"I concur without reservation with his views about money in politics. I have always and will always instruct my finance chairman and treasurer to screen all contributions and accept none that involve any commitments whatever."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Arguments For Pay-TV Explained

Editor, Independent Journal:

The customary objectivity of the I-J was clouded over in the Tuesday, March 3, story on (San Rafael) city council consideration of Pay-TV. The matter was up because someone wanted the council to endorse a resolution to ban "Pay-TV."

Subscription Television was represented only to defend itself against the attempt to destroy it. Speaking for Subscription Television, I asked the council not to act on the matter as it is one for private enterprise and business competition, not for city council action or state laws. There was no one present to endorse the resolution aimed at our destruction. There were two of us who objected to the resolution. This doesn't really end up as "very thin support for Pay-TV."

This problem comes up because theater owners in the state have sponsored an initiative for the November ballot which would declare it to be "contrary to public policy to permit development of subscription television business" and resolutions being proposed to boards of supervisors and city councils to get endorsements for this initiative measure.

We were not asking the city council to endorse or recommend our business; nor were we asking the city council to declare it to be contrary to public policy to operate a theater or a commercial television station. Subscription Television is prepared to stand or fall, succeed or fail, on its product and service and its ability to satisfy the customers who buy its wares. It does not seek the legislative death of its competitors, nor does it see why, under the American system of free enterprise and competition, it should face legislative execution. Actually, a colossal amount of misinformation has been spread about subscription television or "Pay-TV". The facts are:

It is a cabled system coming in by way of the telephone poles. No one is forced to subscribe. After it is in, all programs viewed must be consciously turned on and can be billed for only if watched. It can be taken out at any time. It will have no commercials. It will compete with commercial television only in the sense that all entertainment is competing for a customer's money and attention. It will not show, and would be foolish to show, the normal commercial television programs. No one would pay to see what he can see by not paying. It will show unusual programs in the cultural field: operas, ballets, concerts; in the sports field: regular major league baseball and football and championship matches; in the field of instruction: language and other lessons; and programs of specialized interest which have a small but devoted following, such as conservation, hobbies, collecting, etc. It will continue to operate, on the demonstrated fact that programs of mass interest appeal to the majority of the viewing public and sell the products of the advertising sponsors.

It is interesting to note that the theater owners who asked for a resolution against "Pay-TV" are not against all "Pay-TV" in the home. They heartily endorse "Pay-TV" in the theater. The recent Clay-Liston fight was shown by closed circuit television in theaters throughout California at prices of $5.50, $6.50 and $7.50 at seat and in drive-ins, $20 a car. (Subscription television prices for fights will be far less than this for a living room full.)

We hope that the San Rafael City Council will not allow its dignity and authority to be abused by being made party to an attempt by one commercial interest to destroy another commercial endeavor.

Dogs, Cats Need Planned Parenthood

Editor, Independent Journal:

A short time ago a person wrote in a letter to your paper that her 15-year-old cat had given birth to a known 138 kittens and she seemed quite proud of this so-called accomplishment. I am making a plea on behalf of the unnumbered thousands of abandoned, unwanted animal waifs being born in our communities. Cute and lovable animals, every one of them, yet they are born under sentence of death, because there simply are not homes for them.

Do you know that at this very moment untold thousands of surplus, unplaceable kittens and puppies are flooding their way into the world at a faster rate than they can ever be absorbed? Fully 90 per cent of the kittens are foredoomed to suffering and premature death.

Thousands of these creatures are doomed to pay with their lives, guilty of no greater offense than that of being born in a world that has no place for them. And all because some irresponsible pet owners have allowed their dogs or cats to roam at large and breed, and add to the already enormous overpopulation of cats and dogs.

If people that permit their pets to breed litter after litter could follow up the fate of those puppies or kittens they "found good homes for" and that of their offspring in turn, they would be appalled at the endless variety of tragedies that result from even a single instance of accidental breeding. It may be the very kitten YOU gave away that is responsible for that gaunt, emaciated mother cat foraging in garbage pails, her eyes haunted and harried in the losing struggle for survival for herself and her puny frightened kittens.

The responsibility for these unwanted and homeless animals rests squarely upon people who breed puppies and kittens that they cannot or will not keep and humanely maintain.

Cooler Heads Believe There'll Be No War Between Indonesia, Malaysia

KUALA LUMPUR (Malaysia) — The cooler heads in this harried capital are convinced that the smoldering relations between Indonesia and Malaysia aren't going to erupt into open war.

Indonesia's President Sukarno is recklessly taking this tense part of the world to the brink of disaster in the avowed purpose of trying to crush his newly-created independent neighbor.

Firing has not ceased as a result of the cease-fire which Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy helped bring into being.

But, despite the black headlines and violent words, I find growing conviction that Sukarno will not turn his threats into major hostilities that could wreck both countries.

THERE IS severe strain between the Indonesian and Malaysian governments. The tension springs chiefly from these actions:

Indonesian guerrillas are operating within Malaysian territory. There have been numerous violations in which Indonesian bands have attacked Malaysian security forces on Malaysian soil.

The Indonesian foreign minister has declared that Jakarta intends to supply its forces operating inside Malaysia.

The Malaysian chief of staff has replied that such action will be "countered by all necessary means."

I think Sukarno hasn't a leg to stand on, but it is only fair to set out the best case which defenders of Indonesian conduct might give.

THEY WOULD SAY that Sukarno is acting in the deep conviction that creation of the Malaysian state is a British device to perpetuate an island of Western colonialism in the heart of Southeast Asia.

They would say that Sukarno believes that in time Malaysia will come under the dominion of its Chinese racial majority, which in the end would turn it into a satellite of Peking—and that he is acting to prevent it.

There are answers to these arguments.

Malaysia is exercising its sovereignty by retaining the benefits of working and co-operating with the British—instead of throwing these benefits away.

IT SEEMS far less likely that Malaysia will go Communist than that Indonesia, which has the largest Communist party outside the Communist bloc, would go Communist.

Is Sukarno so determined to dominate Malaysian sections of North Borneo that he will leap over the brink into war?

There are several deterrents. Britain will certainly stand firm in its treaty commitments to defend Malaysia. Indonesia is in no position, either economically or militarily, to sustain a war against Malaysia and Britain. And Malaysia by the strength of its case has won many other friends around the world.

Here's one place where war is possible but unlikely.

Defector Names 150 Red Spies To U.S.

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The names of more than 150 espionage agents in this country and abroad have been given U.S. authorities by Yuri Nossenko, the Russian secret police official who defected in Geneva last month.

His disclosures put the finger on at least five spy rings, one reputedly in a highly sensitive U.S. agency.

Among those named by the former ranking KGB officer are scientists, key-placed government employees, businessmen and newspapermen — all allegedly members of a Russian espionage system in the Western Hemisphere.

ARRESTS and dismissals from U.S. British and French intelligence and diplomatic services are expected to follow Nossenko's revelations.

Now in political asylum in the U.S., he is being exhaustively "debriefed" by Central Intelligence Agency authorities. His defection and detailed information are deemed so extraordinary by congressional leaders that they have taken the unusual step of personally impressing on CIA Director John McCone the necessity of exercising the utmost care in safeguarding Nossenko.

The congressional leaders are anxious about possible attempts on Nossenko's life by KGB agents. His "elimination" would be a great relief to many Soviet spies.

A MAJOR factor in this congressional concern is inside knowledge that both Nossenko and "Michael Goleniewski," the former ranking Polish KGB official who defected to the U.S. several years ago, have charged that the State Department and CIA have been "penetrated" by Soviet agents.

Both defectors were explicit in their jarring accusations—naming names and other details.

As a consequence, the congressional leaders are uneasy about CIA and State Department handling of defectors. Doubts have been voiced about the reliability of protective measures.

THESE BACKSTAGE apprehensions have resulted in investigations being launched by two congressional committees—the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee, headed by Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss.), and the House Subcommittee on Immigration, headed by Rep. Michael Feighan (D-Ohio).

Eastland has issued a subpoena for "Goleniewski" (the name given him by the CIA to conceal his true identity) and requested that agency to bring him before the committee for questioning.

PRESIDENT Charles de Gaulle's vaunted "independent" nuclear strike force is running into engine difficulties. While he is grandiloquently huffing and puffing about these bombers, he has had to come to the U.S. for flying tankers for them, and may have to buy U.S. engines to power them.

The Mirage-4 lacks an adequate turbo-jet engine because the one developed by the French isn't up to the job. So De Gaulle is faced with buying Pratt and Whitney engines for the bombers.

20 YEARS AGO

After protests from school officials, the San Anselmo City Council named Wade Thomas of the school district, Ethel Tompkins of the humane society and A. Von Rotz and Claude Mason of the city council to a "dog-eradicating committee."

To avoid rationing of overseas mail, the lead editorial in the Independent urged use of V-Mail.

The San Anselmo City Council planned to expand the city's business district on two fronts, ordering surveys for a second business street paralleling San Anselmo Avenue and for rezoning part of Tunstead Avenue.

Black-Stockinged Marta Christal Beats The Bushes To Get Antiques

JUNKER MARTA CHRISTAL sells antiques behind the sign of the pointed hand in Sausalito's old freight depot in what she calls "the unfashionable end of town."

"Where do you find these things?" we asked Marta. "You go out and beat the bushes," she said. "The funny thing," she added, "is that they always say, 'Do you buy things?' Of course I do. I don't conjure them up."

"It's a fascinating business. You never know what to expect. A couple came in Saturday out of the blue with this late 17th Century Spanish cradle. . . . I don't particularly like to stay in the shop. I like to get out and scrounge for the things. Often someone will call saying, 'Grandmother died and . . .'"

MRS. CHRISTAL has been in this business a year in April. Her first job was as a "long-stemmed beauty" for Billy Rose. I was a showgirl," she said.

Then she married a ministerial student and, she adds, "I was Sister Davis for 12 years." She lived in Mexico 17 years, where she and her husband ran an insecticide business. In Mexico she got a divorce and a degree in humanities.

She met John Christal, a master mariner, in London, married him in Canada and returned to Mexico. They now live in Corte Madera.

Asked how she happened to start antiques, she replied, "It was a way out. . . . For years I was one of these people I call 'junkers.' I have enough things at home to open another shop."

MARTA WEARS black

string stockings she calls dancer's hose because nylon stockings only last a day in her crowded, dusty shop.

"I swear anything, if you keep it long enough, will sell. I had a violin-uke. It was purple, fading away to gold and pink. Two men walked in one day and one said, 'I have looked half the world over for one of those.' He was ecstatic. He bought it."

Mrs. Christal has a round, black stove in her shop in which she burns coal and on top of which she keeps coffee hot for visitors. At Christal's she served mulled wine.

"One day I had a customer," she explained, "who was very fainty and I dashed over to the Chinese market to get some sherry. I didn't know whether it should be charged to store expense or entertaining but, anyway, I revived him."

SHE LOVES old signs. "An old lady walked in one day and said, 'Do you buy things?' Everyone says this. 'It depends,' I said. 'What do you buy?' She unwrapped this big sign which read: 'Palms, Palms read. Advise. All matters. Future foretold.'"

"I said, 'Are you going out of business?' She said, 'No. I get better results from a crystal ball.'"

"Nobody bought it. I gave it to a friend in Belvedere and now people knock on her door asking to have their palms read."

"I have quite a few gaming tables, including a Victorian black jack table," she said. "I like to work with people. Each contact with a person is different, variable and unexpected." She added, "I get a lot of lid lifters."

ART BUCHWALD

At Last The Inside—Congressmen In Army Would Save Special Cafes

WASHINGTON—There has been a lot of criticism lately over the fact that many senators and congressmen hold high ranks in the military reserves. Barry Goldwater, for example, is an Air Force major general, commands the 9,999th Air Reserve Squadron, which includes Sen. Howard Cannon as a brigadier-general and Hawaii's Sen. Hiram Fong as a colonel as well as 70 congressional staffers. Sen. Strom Thurmond holds the rank of major-general in the Army and he commands an Army Reserve unit of 90 men on Capitol Hill, and Rep. William S. Mailliard of California is captain of the 75-man Navy unit, which includes Marine Col. George A. Smathers of Florida.

Critics of the reserve system insist that these members of Congress are no more than a high-powered lobby for their respective services and their only function is to get appropriations for the outfits whose uniforms they wear.

WE WOULD like to defend these reserve officers because we feel they have been unjustly vilified. Unfortunately, for security reasons they cannot defend themselves. But we are under no such wraps.

Each reserve unit at the Capitol has a definite military function far and above lobbying for their particular service.

For example, the 9,999th Air Reserve Squadron has an important role to play in the defense of our country. It is not generally known, but underneath the Capitol in specially constructed hangars are 36 F-105 fighter planes.

Installation Due Joseph Cervetto of 24 Sea Way, San Rafael, who has portrayed Christopher Columbus during Columbus Day celebrations for the past six years, will be installed as president of the Columbus Civic Club in San Francisco at a banquet tomorrow at the Italian Family Club, 678 Green Street, San Francisco.

If anyone ever pushes the button, the entire back lawn of the Capitol will be rolled back and the fighter planes will be brought to surface.

IN THE MEANTIME, General Goldwater and members of the 9,999th Air Reserve Squadron will be helped into their flight suits by Senate page boys and will report to the Senate judiciary room for a briefing. After being briefed, they will rush to their planes and take off up Constitution Avenue by twos. The primary role of the 9,999th Squadron is to protect the Army-Navy Country Club from attack by unfriendly aircraft.

They will also be assigned to fly cover for any senators and congressmen who would like to leave Washington in a hurry. And thirdly, they will in all likelihood be allowed to strafe Bobby Baker's home in Spring Valley.

While General Goldwater's planes are in the air, General Strom Thurmond of the U. S. Army Reserve will dig in on the Virginia side of the Potomac to make sure no Negroes are served in segregated restaurants during the emergency.

THE NAVY unit will launch a torpedo boat (now stashed away in the Senate cloakroom) on the lake in front of the Lincoln Memorial and see that no enemy submarines penetrate to the Washington monument.

These plans are contingent, of course, on Congress's being in session. In case a filibuster is going on in the Senate when the balloon goes up, General Thurmond will be allowed to remain behind. The Defense Department will probably deny these facts, but we have it on the highest authority that these plans have been drawn up.

Proof of it is that when we called the Defense Department and asked them what they were doing with so many high-ranking officers up on the Hill, a spokesman replied, "No comment."

Marin, Santa Rosa Clash Tonight In Playoff

College of Marin's basketball team will battle the cagers from Santa Rosa Junior College tonight at 8 o'clock on the Napa Junior College courts to determine the Golden Valley Conference representative to the state basketball tournament.

Marin and Santa Rosa wound up the conference last Friday night with co-championship honors, each winning nine and losing three conference scraps. The state tournament will be held in Walnut (Los Angeles County) on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Tonight's game on the neutral Napa floor will be a matter of the best offense against the best defense. Marin leads the conference in offense with an average of 85.2 points per game; Santa Rosa's Bear Cubs have a defensive average of 65.3.

Marin lost its third conference game Feb. 22 when Sierra nipped the Tars 81-78. After that last loss of the regular season, the Tars started to score big, beating College of the Siskiyous 89-71, Shasta 102-71, and finally Napa last Friday 98-91.

Things looked dismal for the Mariners early in the conference slate when they lost two of their first three games. Santa Rosa, at the time, had a

3-0 record and led Marin by two and one-half games. But then Cal Riemcke's cagers won

8 out of their next 9 conference games to grab the co-championship banner.

Starting for the Tars tonight will be center Pete Bardea (6-4), forwards Brad Busch (6-1) and Bill Hodgson (6-3), and guards Ron O'Connell (5-11) and Jay Johnson (6-1).

O'Connell is the Tars' top scorer with a 23.1 average per game during the conference slate. He was runner-up to Napa's Joe Kelley for individual scoring honors in the conference, Kelley with a 24.3 figure.

Other top scorers for Marin are Busch with a 18.8 average and Johnson with an average of 18.3. Johnson, O'Connell and Busch, like their initials show, do Marin's big scoring job. All three ended the season among the top 10 scorers in the GVC.

Marin fell to Santa Rosa in their first conference meeting, 76-64, but turned the tables on the Bear Cubs in their next match, 86-73.

"Our game strategy was different in those two games," said Riemcke, who has coached the College of Marin cage teams to six championships in his seven years of tenure. "In the first game we worried too much about Santa Rosa's press defense. In the second game we decided to play our own brand of game and not worry about their defense."

The Tars use a fast break offense, and under Riemcke, As far as game strategy tonight, Riemcke doesn't plan anything that Santa Rosa hasn't already seen. "We're going to just keep our fast break. We will just play our game and hope that is enough."

Cepeda Feels 'Something Special'; Could '64 Season Be His Greatest?

PHOENIX—This year could be the biggest in Orlando Cepeda's major league career. I will be the seventh season in the big time for the Bull of the Caribbees. His six previous seasons were anything but mediocre. Nevertheless, Cepeda has a special feeling about the season soon to start.

First of all, Cepeda firmly believes that the Giants are going to win the 1964 National League pennant. "We got pitching depth this year," he said. "Sure, I feel sorry to see my buddy, Felipe Alou, go to Milwaukee. But that is baseball. Felipe understands. Any pro does. He is real pro."

As for himself, Cepeda admits a feeling of "something special" in the offing. "It's a good feeling," he says. "Never have I been happier coming to camp."

There can be no doubt that Cepeda's happiness is traceable to a new $53,000 contract, $6,000 more than he received last season. The 33 Gs, however, are not the only reason Cepeda is a happy fellow.

DURING THE winter Horace Stoneham, president of the Giants, spent a brief vacation in the Caribbean. While there, Stoneham, on three specific occasions — once in a newspaper interview, once in a radio interview and once on television — said some very nice things about Cepeda.

"Never," said Stoneham, "have the Giants ever entertained any thought of trading Cepeda because no club has enough to offer for him." That squelched, once and for all, those recurrent rumors about Cepeda being expendable. More importantly, Cepeda's Puerto Rico countrymen got the word directly from Orlando's boss.

CEPEDA AND Stoneham came to an agreement on Orlando's 1964 contract without one harsh word. "No trouble, no trouble at all," said Cepeda. "I sign it like that — bing! You know how long it take me? Five seconds."

Cepeda apparently was taken by surprise when he saw the $53,000 contract Stoneham handed him. A year ago the Giants had tried to cut $7,000 off the $46,500 he received in 1962. Cepeda reacted like an outraged and wounded bull. He finally signed his 1963 contract for a token $500 raise to $47,000 two weeks after spring training started.

This is the first year Cepeda has been in camp for opening of spring training since 1958 when he was the National League Rookie of the Year.

Only once in his six year career with the Giants has he been under .300. That was in 1960 when he hit .297. But he made up for that by winning both the homerun (46) and RBI (142) titles in 1961 with a .311 average.

"THIS YEAR," Cepeda told Stoneham after that five-second signing of his 1964 contract, "I swing just for base hits — then, the homers take care of themselves."

"If Orlando does that," says Alvin Dark, "he will hit the .340 I said he is capable of hitting when I became manager of the Giants three years ago."

Three Marin Teams Beaten In Cage Tournament Games

San Rafael Is Fourth At Sacramento Tourney

San Rafael High School's basketballers lost their final game in the Camellia Tournament of Champions in Sacramento Saturday night to Pittsburg, 60-55.

The victory gave Pittsburg third place in the tourney and San Rafael fourth.

Tournament champs were the cagers of Encina who rallied from a 10-point deficit to upend Rio Linda 54-49. Consolation winner was Stagg which dumped Yuba City 71-58, and seventh place was won by Salinas after its 47-41 triumph over Orland.

In the San Rafael-Pittsburg contest, the Bulldogs were trailing throughout. The closest they got was five points, and that was just before the final buzzer sounded. Bulldog guard Wade Roberts and center John McKinnon led the way in the scoring column with 18 and 16 points respectively.

Rod Monti, still nursing an ankle injury, played a limited time in the game and never made the scoring column.

STAR OF GAME

Pittsburg's 6-0 forward Don Lawson, who can jump like a gazelle, was the star of the game for the winners with 20 points and an equal number of rebounds.

In the rebounding department for San Rafael, Rich Ahern led with 8, and was followed by Roberts with 7 and McKinnon with 6.

McKinnon, after his fine performance in the three tourney games, was named to the All-Tournament team. Encina's Jim Eakins, who scored a total of 72 points in the tourney, was selected as the most valuable player.

Other members of the all-tourney team were Encina's Eakins and Carl Lyon; Fred Mason and Jack Kountz of Rio Linda; Russell Goodman of Yuba; Mark Marquess of Stagg; Rusty Critchfield of Salinas; Lawson of Pittsburg, and Eric Nielsen of Orland.

Novato Stopped In Title Battle

Novato High School lost its bid for championship of the Fall River basketball tourney last Saturday but the Hornets' star cager, Nick Willard, was named the tourney's most valuable player.

The Hornets lost the championship game to Miramonte of Orinda, 56-47.

Novato had advanced to the finals of the tourney with twin wins on Friday. In their first game of the tourney, the Hornets cagers nipped Trinity 23-21 in a "defensive" game, then came back later that night to whip host Fall River 60-49.

Willard was the top scorer in those first two games, with 14 points in the opener and 26 in the second game. In the championship game, Willard scored 10 points and Barry Hachmyer scored 12.

Miramonte led through most of the final game, carrying a four-point halftime lead.

Besides Willard, Novato's Fred Arnold also made the all

Redwood Drops Record 93-82 Tilt At Gridley

Redwood High School's Giants, scoring more points than they ever have, still lost their final game of the Gridley Invitational Basketball Tournament last Saturday, 93-82 to Mount Diablo of Concord.

The combined scoring of both teams—175 points—set a new record for the 12-year-old tournament. It was a remarkable exhibition of shooting, both teams using a fast break, scoring basket after basket. More remarkable was the closeness of the game. The score was tied 22-22 after one quarter, 41-41 at half, and 61-61 after three quarters.

After four minutes had elapsed in the final stanza, the score was still tied, 75-75. But then within the next 30 seconds, Redwood's big three front men all fouled out. Going to the sidelines with too many fouls in that half-minute were center Jim Halm, and forwards Dave Auerbach and Hillard Witt, the top scorers and rebounders for the Giants.

By the time the final quarter had ended, Mount Diablo had outscored Redwood by a 32-21 count. The win gave the Concord team third place and the Giants fourth.

La Sierra of Sacramento won the championship of the tournament with a 56-44 victory over Santa Rosa. Gilroy finished fifth in the tourney with a 59-52 win over Oroville, and DeAnza took seventh place with a 77-53 win over host Gridley.

AUERBACH STARS

Redwood, hitting on 46 per cent of its shots from the floor, was led by the scoring of Auerbach, who had 29 points in that final game. Halm picked up 20 points before fouling out. Witt led in rebounds with 10. When those three boys fouled out, all was lost for Redwood.

Mount Diablo was led by Richard Sims with 32 points.

Auerbach was selected to the All-Tournament team from Redwood. La Sierra's Bob Franz was voted the Most Valuable Player. Other members of the all-star team were Richard Sims, Gene West and Don Bradford from Mount Diablo; Scott Eustis and Steve Borries from Gilroy; Larry Heath of Oroville; John Grace and Bill Zollner of Santa Rosa, and John Dresser of La Sierra.

Wooden, Coach Of '64, Credits His Players

NEW YORK (UPI) — John Wooden of UCLA today gave all the credit to his players following his selection as the United Press International college basketball coach of the year.

The choice of the 53-year-old grandfather in a nationwide poll of 293 sportswriters, editors and broadcasters was a natural as he led the top-ranked Bruins to their first unbeaten season in history. UCLA wound up its regular campaign with a 26-0 record and is favored to go on to capture the NCAA championship starting this week.

Wooden, who started his coaching career in 1932 and never has suffered through a losing season, knows where the credit for his success belongs.

"This certainly is a wonderful honor and naturally I am quite pleased," he said when informed of his selection. "I think any coach selected should be tremendously proud. But it is the boys who play for him who get the coach in the position to receive such an honor. And I have been fortunate in having a fine group to coach."

"The boys deserve all the credit for the success they enjoyed this year. They did the job and showed the determination on the court necessary for victory."

Three-Way Tie In Pensacola Tourney

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Arnold Palmer had the record going for him today as he teed off against Gary Player and Miller Barber in an 18-hole playoff for $4,000 in the Pensacola Open golf championship.

Palmer, gunning for his second straight Pensacola Open title and third in five years, has won 11 of his 40 championships on the PGA tour in play-offs. Player has lost every one of the seven playoffs in which he has participated in the United States. Barber is competing in his first playoff.

The 34-year-old Palmer said a pressure-packed seven-foot putt to get into the playoff on the 6,380-yard, par-72 Pensacola Country Club course. It gave him a 69 and a 14-under-par 274, the same score posted by Player and Barber 15 minutes later.

Palmer, 13-under par as he came to the final hole, was playing ahead of Player and Barber, who were both 14-under par through 17 holes. Gunning for a birdie to tie, Palmer drilled a five-iron shot that stopped seven feet to the left of the hole. With Player and Barber watching from the 18th fairway, Palmer sank the putt. The two losers in the playoff will receive $2,300 apiece while all three players will split half of the gross receipts. The tournament sponsors get the other 50 per cent.

A.A. Stagg's Condition Still Poor

STOCKTON, (AP)—The condition of football's grand old man, 101-year-old Amos Alonzo Stagg, remained poor as uremic poisoning and old age took their toll.

Spokesmen at Hillhaven Convalescent Home, where Stagg has been a patient for two years, said he spent a relatively comfortable Sunday afternoon although his temperature rose slightly.

Earlier he was given fluids by mouth after two days of intravenous feeding.

Stagg, the only man honored in football's Hall of Fame as both player and coach, did not restire until he was 98. He is a Yale graduate and gained coaching fame at the University of Chicago.

He was well enough to make a dramatic appearance at a 100th birthday celebration in August 1962, and until his current illness was up and about several times daily.

Seals Still Hopeful Of Playoff

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The San Francisco Seals apparently have run out of gas in their bid for a second place finish in the Western Hockey League—but fourth place and a playoff berth is still within reach.

The Seals suffered a 2-0 shut-out at the hands of the Blades in Los Angeles last night to fall five points behind Los Angeles and Portland, who are tied for second.

Despite the defeat, San Francisco remained just one point behind the Seattle Totems, who were blanked 5-0 by Portland.

Gordon Haworth of the Blades scored in the opening minutes of last night's contest, and his goal was enough. Goalie Jack Norris of Los Angeles kept the Seals under perfect control, and Con Madigan scored an insurance tally for the Southern California team in the third period.

The Seals will get a chance to take over the fourth place spot tomorrow night when they host the Vancouver Canucks.

The Regional Winners advance to the finals at Kansas City.

Floyd's Challenge Receives 'No' Thanks Reply From Clay

NEW YORK (AP)—Fight promoter Al Bolan has an offer out guaranteeing Cassius Clay $750,000 to risk his heavyweight title against former champion Floyd Patterson.

He also has a "no thank you" note on the way.

At least, that's the word from Bill Faversham, Clay's manager.

"Not interested," Faversham snapped when contacted in Louisville, Ky., after Bolan said he had wired the offer to the new champion and his manager Sunday night.

Patterson, Faversham continued, "is a very nice young man but probably one of the worst heavyweight champions."

Patterson, as usual was not immediately available for comment.

Bolan, however, said the 29-year-old two-time heavyweight boss wanted the fight so badly he was willing to sign for the beaten UCLA, Kansas State, Wichita, and Michigan.

The Regional Winners advance to the finals at Kansas City.

bout without a purse. "That's one of the reasons I am able to offer Clay so much," he said, and added that "it's the largest guarantee ever offered a fighter."

The promoter, who had a hand in Patterson's last five title fights, said he made the offer after a telephone conversation with Patterson in Highland Mills, N. Y.

In that conversation, Bolan said, Patterson said he would fight "for no purse, just for the opportunity to regain the title."

Bolan said Patterson, a Roman Catholic, "apparently feels very strongly about" Clay's statements that he is a member of the Black Muslims.

The controversial Clay, 22, won the title when Sonny Liston failed to answer the bell for the seventh round of their title fight in Miami Beach last month.

It seems to me . . .

by Lou Concilio

There's no light Under the bushel, chum

You may recall the now almost ancient fable of the old man who enjoyed considerable prosperity with his thriving roadside hamburger stand. In fact this old boy, self-made as he was, was coming enough to send his only son away to the university. One day, it came to pass, (It reads with more authority using fable-eze lingo.) the bright young college grad returned to his dad's busy stand.

Horried, the book-made genius noticed the almost endless stream of road-side signs his dad had put up, and he was aghast at the generous portions of non-breaded meat served in the hamburgers. With absolute conviction found in so many cloistered experts in theory, (Ah, memories! Fresh out of Wayne University some 20-odd years ago, anything I might not know was definitely not worth knowing.) this boy reminded his dad of the Great Depression in the country.

Cut down the portions for economy. Remove the costly signs. Retrench. Economize. The old man, properly impressed with the wisdom of his son, and proud that he had paid to get that wisdom crammed into the boy's insufferable skull, did just what the boy said. All too shortly thereafter . . . he went bankrupt.

The moral to this tale is probably too obvious. And you loyal readers know what's coming next, too, I'll bet. If you've got something good to sell you've got to let people know about it. And when they come to you in response to your advertising you'd better deliver.

The truth of this basic principle of merchandising any goods or services is so apparent it is a constant source of wonderment to me why so many merchants in this supposedly enlightened age fail to grasp it. Those pastoral lovers who fight tenaciously against every sign in any business district show a total lack of awareness of the simple economic facts of life. Until the day we all develop extrasensory perception, we need the aid of signs to let us know which store sells what. If the sign contains no dirty words, and its only crime is its brightness, do we arbitrarily banish it as offensive?

Picture Times Square, New York City, with just street lights and window placards (Inconspicuous, now!) only. Unthinkable. Any business district in any city or town needs the natural lure and identification of signs, designed and constructed with taste, to be sure, but not too severely restricted as to brightness and visual impact. Customers will be attracted to the stores displaying the colorful signs, and their purchases will begin the economic cycle so important to any community.

Doug Cowan and I are justifiably proud of our Ames Ford sign and clock in our distinctive tower. A tremendous amount of planning and almost endless refinements were made prior to the finished design with genuine concern that it would attract . . . and not offend.

It has attracted many, as our mounting sales records will substantiate. Of course, it helped an awful lot when those who have been attracted discover Ames Ford actually delivers exactly as advertised.

Being outing manager of the Sierra Club has its "side benefits," Robert V. Golden of Larkspur has found out.

An associate of Golden's had to drop out of a three-week trip conducted by the club through Peru, Chile and Argentina, so Golden was drafted as assistant leader of the trip at the last minute.

Golden, who lives at 421 Elm Avenue and is chairman of the Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission, had the opportunity to comb through Inca ruins, witness Communist terrorism, and get in some mountaineering in the Andes.

Along on the same trip were Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester Cahill of Kentfield and Dr. and Mrs. Clarence Lesko of San Rafael.

Flying to Panama first, the group changed planes without stopping to see a tropic island preserve as planned, and headed for Lima, Peru, on Feb. 2. They flew from the sea-level City of Lima to Cuzco at 11,000 feet elevation in the Andes. Cuzco is a "superimposition" of 16th Century Spanish architecture on top of Inca ruins, according to Golden.

A three-hour train ride down the eastern slope of the Andes in a one-car train brought the group to Machu Picchu, where Inca ruins are preserved.

Golden said the Inca structures are built of polished blocks of granite. The only tools found in the area have been bronze chisels. The Incas retreated to Machu Picchu after losing a battle to the Spaniards in Cuzco.

Returning to Cuzco, Golden said one night he heard the rip of burp gun fire. Next morning he learned several persons had been killed in a riot.

Signs of communism and Castroism are prevalent in the Peruvian mountain towns, Golden said. He saw a huge painted hammer and sickle on Inca ruins in Cuzco. Another sign read "Fidel yes, Russia no."

In contrast to the low standard of living and the dissatisfied population in the mountain towns of Peru, Golden said that much of Chile bears a close resemblance to the prosperity of the Central California valleys.

The group camped on a farm near Los Andes, north of Santiago, Chile. Using the farm as a base camp in the rich agricultural region, the group split up to climb nearby mountains and visit the Christ of the Andes statue near Portillo.

Members of the group also made climbs with guides from the Andes Federation, an organization similar to what the Sierra Club was 20 years ago. None of the climbs were major ascents because of the short time in each place, according to Golden.

From the Santiago region, the group traveled South to Puerto Varas where there are many lakes. They camped at the base of a 12,000-foot peak in Argentina.

Golden encountered no difficulty in making the arrangements for the trip, other than language difficulties, and returned on Feb. 22 with a "feeling of wonder" for the heights of the Andes.

Tam High Music And Art Clubs Schedule Dinner

Planners Due Map In Novato

The Novato Planning Commission will consider the tentative map of Sutter Terrace Unit 1 at its meeting at 8 p.m. today in the Novato Community House.

The Sutter Development Co. is asking for approval of this 41-lot subdivision on 12 acres south of Lynwood Park between South Novato Boulevard and Highway 101.

Robert Coman is asking for approval for a tentative map of Hillside Subdivision Unit 3, of five lots on one and one half acres at the end of Gothic Drive.

The planners also will consider a rezoning from single to multiple family of 12.8 acres south of Clausen Court east of Highway 101 as requested by John Novak Inc. This is a continuation of a hearing postponed from the last meeting of the commission.

Other items to be considered by the planners include the grading plan for San Marin Unit 7., a permit to start a mortuary at 1801 Novato Boulevard asked by Ralph E. Gilett, and a use permit to start a nursery sales office at 1751 Novato Boulevard requested by Richard A. Maldonado.

Colonel Gets Medal Upon Retirement

Lt. Col. Morris J. Katz of 244 Devon Drive, San Rafael, received a commendation medal last week on his retirement after 23 years' service with the U.S. Army.

He entered the Army in 1941 and was assigned to the San Francisco Port of Embarkation during World War II. In 1951 and 1952, he served in Korea and earned three campaign stars.

Colonel Katz served in Tokyo for six years with Headquarters, 500th Military Intelligence Group, in his last overseas assignment. He returned to serve at Sixth Army Headquarters, San Francisco, with the office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for intelligence.

He has completed courses at the Army Language School in Monterey, and the Strategic Intelligence School, in Washington, D.C. and speaks both Chinese and Japanese.

Born in Shanghai where his father, the late James B. Katz, was in the transportation business, Colonel Katz first came to San Francisco when he was 9 years old. He commuted between China and California to attend school in San Francisco and at San Rafael Military Academy and San Rafael High School.

He took charge of the family's business in China at his father's death in 1937 and stayed there until 1940 when United States citizens were advised to leave the mainland.

During his Army career he also was presented the Legion of Merit award.

School Employees To Hear Retirement Talk

Members of the California School Employees Assn. in Marin and Sonoma Counties have been invited to hear two speakers on retirement at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Hill Junior High School in Novato.

Otto Palambo of the CSEA retirement committee, and Harry Platt of the Social Security Board in San Francisco will address the meeting.

Last Year Good One For Marin Firemen

Last year was a good one for the Marin County Fire Department, Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom said in his annual report released today.

The department answered 321 fire calls during 1963. In 1962 there were 352 and in 1961 there were 378.

The number of grass and structural fires were both down from previous years, Bloom reported, and the acreage burned by fire was the lowest since 1951.

The chief credits cooperation by the public, prevention measures such as removing roadside grass and cutting fire trails.

Worst structural fire was the American Distillery fire near Sausalito. Other bad fires were the hay barn fire on the Spaletta Ranch and a house fire on Oak Drive in Bayside Acres.

But the total number of structural fires for the year—107—was below the total of 109 in 1962 and 108 the year before, Bloom said.

Vehicle fires, however, continue to increase. Last year there were 46, the year before 45 and the year before that, 30.

During the year the department opened the Hicks Valley Station and was able, through staff increases, to reduce the work week from 120 hours to 96 hours.

School Library Gets New Books

The Lagunitas School library has increased its book collection through two memorial funds which so far have totaled $262.50.

One fund for Catherine Barbano, killed in an auto accident in Mexico, Jan. 26, has brought $150 in contributions. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Barbano of Lagunitas. The couple help out at the school through lunch hour supervision.

Another fund for Joanne Patricia Stanley, who died as a result of Dec. 18 after an accident west of Fairfax, has brought $112.50 in contributions.

Feminine Revolution Reflects In Mill Valley Class Series

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

What appears to be a real feminine revolution in the United States is now being felt in Mill Valley at the grass roots level.

Evidence of this is the current series of classes on "Understanding Today's Woman—Sociologically, Psychologically and Theologically." Sponsored by the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour and the Methodist and Community Churches in Mill Valley, the series of six Friday morning classes are held at the Community Church.

THAT THERE really is such a revolution is clear from two nationwide phenomena.

One is economic and political, in which efforts are being made to change the status of women as "second class citizens." This seems to have begun with the appointment of a commission on the status of women, and most recently President Johnson followed up a declaration that his administration will not be a "stag" government by appointment of 10 women to high posts.

The other phenomenon is sociological and psychological, and centers around the role of women as housewives and mothers versus their roles as employees or career women.

Evidence includes the popularity of Betty Friedan's book "The Feminine Mystique," as well as the many articles in newspapers, and symposia such as the one on "The Potential of Women" held at the University of California Medical center last year.

NOW, AS IN the above described course, women are beginning to discuss among themselves what all of this means in their own lives. In the classes at the Community Church another dimension is added by inclusion of the theological aspects.

THE CLASSES are conducted by Muriel James, dean of the Layman's School of Religion in Berkeley and an ordained minister of the United Church of Christ. She holds a degree in history from the University of California, a bachelor of divinity degree from the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, an Episcopal seminary, and is completing work on a doctorate in adult education at the University of California.

The topics of discussion in the class visited were "Sin in the Gender Form" and neurotic needs for affection, power, prestige and possessions.

Classes are so informal that any of the 20 members to which they are limited feels free to interrupt at any point with a question or disagreement with a particular statement.

After the lecture members have coffee in four groups while they discuss the day's topic. Then they reconvene for further discussion.

Assignments consist of reading of much reference material in books and magazines and sometimes the women are asked to write a paper dealing with their own reactions.

"SIN IN GENDER Form" proved to be a fascinating subject.

Modern Dance Classes To Begin In San Rafael

San Rafael Recreation Department will begin a modern dance program for women tomorrow from 10 to 11:30 a.m. at the Community Recreation Center, Union Street near Fourth.

Instructor will be Skip Clippinger. She also will teach a class for 9 to 12-year-olds in "Dances of All Nations."

ject. After explaining that the term "sin" was meaningful only for those who acknowledge God, Mrs. James wrote two tables on the blackboard.

Listed as masculine sins were (1) pride and will to power and (2) exploitation, with their symptoms labeled self assertion and treatment of others as objects.

Listed in the other table were symptoms of feminine forms of comparable sins, which Mrs. James said indicated underdeveloped and self-negating personality.

These were: (1) triviality (2) distractibility and diffidence (3) lack of organization or focus (4) dependence on others for one's own definition (5) tolerance at the expense of excellence (6) inability to respect boundaries of privacy (7) sentimentality and cozy sociability and (8) mistrust of reason.

THE TEACHER explained that the terms "masculine" and "feminine" are merely convenient ways of categorizing human characteristics, because each sex has elements of the other within it, adding that this is desirable.

A lively discussion followed the presentation, with one woman insisting the word "human" should be used for these sins or faults rather than "masculine" or "feminine."

After a similar consideration of neurotic needs for affection, power, prestige and possessions, Mrs. James concluded with a discussion of hope—existential and theological.

For the next assignment each class member was requested to bring to the next session a list of things she wants most in life.

SO POPULAR and highly recommended to others has this series of classes been that a new series that will go more deeply into the same questions will start on April 10.

And planned to start on April 21 is a new evening series for both men and women. It will take its theme, "Honest to God and Modern Man" from the book "Honest to God" by Bishop John Robinson.

How many ways does exercise help your child?

We're all aware of the more obvious benefits of exercise—to develop strength, skill, agility. But exercise has other important benefits. For instance, it is good for the heart and blood vessels. Indeed, daily, vigorous activity may be the most important factor in preventing or delaying heart disease. Moreover, the better a youngster's physical condition, the more likely he is to do well in his studies. And the physically fit boy or girl certainly measures up to challenging or competitive situations with a sureness that the under-developed child often lacks. Don't you agree that your child should have both the immediate and the long-range benefits of exercise? Won't you see to it that his school has a daily program that can improve every child's fitness? For more information, send for the free leaflet offered by the President's Council on Physical Fitness, Washington 25, D. C.

SOMETHING ONLY

Her Wigmaker Knows --

By PATRICIA ZINN

"Does she or doesn't she Bleach her hair?"

"No, silly, have on a wig."

Whether or not milady wears a wig has rapidly become a choice morsel of conversation between us chickens now that the hairpieces are proving a practical necessity. Especially in Marin, where we emerge from the pool or off the sailboat or golf course to attend a luau or dinner dance.

Wigs have a personality of their own, such as strawberry blonde "Eliza Doolittle," who is the most recent addition to a San Rafael family of five.

Almost everyone tries a blonde wig on, say Arline Kard and Doris Moritz, who operate Michaelangelo's Wig Salon in San Rafael, although they never find out if "blondes have more fun" because few women really want a complete change.

WIGS ARE real winners with Dad, too, once he finds out they need only be cleaned every six months and reset once a month. Besides, the lady of the house knows how to recomb the tresses.

AT THE wig salon, the first and most important step is selecting a color to blend with the skin tones. Streaking or "sunshining" is achieved in the wigmaker's art by adding strands of white, platinum or gold hair.

MILADY IS measured from ear to ear, temple to temple and around the hairline so that the fabric cap of her wig will be a perfect fit. Following the selection of a hair style, the wig is cut, set, and placed under the dryer.

After its comb-out comes the formal introduction.

CINDERELLA leaves for the ball.

"WILL THE REAL WIG please stand up" will reveal Mrs. Walter Derr Jr. of Terra Linda, center, who makes a threesome of pretty mannequins at Michaelangelo's Wig Salon in San Rafael. The picture shows the wide range not only in hair length and style, but also in color. The black wig on the mannequin at left has been streaked. In wigmaking, streaking is achieved by adding strands of white hair. (Independent-Journal photos by Jim Kean)

ARLINE MEASURES Mrs. Derr, in the picture at left, so that the fabric cap of her wig will fit perfectly. Measurements must be taken from temple to temple, ear to ear and around the hairline, Operator Doris Moritz is now ready to take over, at right, cutting and rolling the wig. Wigs are cut, styled and rolled like the normal head of hair. The two operators find that very few women want a complete change in hair color.

SELECTING THE proper hair color to blend with the skin tones is the first and most important step in the art of wigmaking. Here Arline Kard of Michaelangelo's shows Mrs. Derr many wigs in a variety of colors. Hair colors are also shown in swatches.

MRS. DERR SMILES as she takes a peek at her wig under the dryer.

WEARING HER new wig, Mrs. Derr is seen with an assortment of wig cases in leather and tapestry. Wigs need only be cleaned every six months and reset once a month.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, March 9, the 69th day of 1964 with 297 to follow.

The moon is approaching its new phase. The evening stars are Venus and Jupiter.

On this day in history: In 1832, Abraham Lincoln ran for his first political office—the Illinois legislature. He lost.

In 1862, the warships Monitor and Merrimack battled for four hours off Hampton Roads, Va., in a highlight engagement of the Civil War.

In 1947, one of the longest strikes in U.S. history ended after 440 days when the United Iron Workers came to terms with the Case Manufacturing Co. of Racine, Wis.

In 1962, 31 miners were killed in a coal mine explosion in West Germany.

A thought for the day — Russian author Tolstoy once said: "The more is given the less the people will work for themselves, and the less they work the more their poverty will increase."

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Declarers Play Better Bridge Game Than Average Defenders

Within reasonable limits, bridge is an overbidder's game. The chief reason is that the average declarer plays much better than the average defender, so that many an "impossible" contract is made against a slip in the defense.

South dealer

Both sides vulnerable

EAST

East

Opening lead — ♠ K

West opened the king of spades, and South saw that he could not possibly make the contract if West held the ace of clubs.

ACE OF SPADES

South could discard one heart on the ace of spades, but he would still have to lose a heart and two clubs.

And if South went down, he would hear from North: "How could you jump to five? I gave you two aces, and I had never opened my mouth. Yet you still couldn't make your contract. If you ran your business the way you bid, we'd be in the poorhouse in no time."

And South, who was partnered by his wife, would simply have to sit still and answer, "Yes, angel."

RAY OF LIGHT

Just as South was considering this horrible fate he saw a ray of light. He took the first trick in dummy with the ace of spades, discarding a heart from his hand, and led a low heart from dummy to the second trick.

East followed with the seven of hearts, and South played the ten. West won with the jack of hearts and led another spade, forcing South to ruff.

Naturally, South ruffed with the eight of diamonds. Declarer led his last heart to dummy, ruffed a heart with the nine of diamonds, cashed the ace of diamonds and led the low diamond to dummy's seven. Now he could cash dummy's last heart, discarding one of the losing clubs.

The sharp-eyed reader has noticed, of course, that East could defeat the contract by stepping up with the queen of hearts at the second trick.

East must then lead a club. All very true, but not many defenders would be clever enough to do this at the table. And this is why bridge is an overbidder's game.

New Season Of Marin Film Fare Looks Like Winner

Here Are Some Previews Of Pictures Due County

GOING TO U.S.—No one can change young Stathis Giallelis' mind once he has it set on coming to America from Turkey in "America, America," opening in the first part of April at the Tamalpais Theater, San Anselmo.

FAMILY FARE — Walt Disney's latest adventure film "A Tiger Walks," comes to Marin for the Easter season. It will be opening at the Rafael Theater, San Rafael, on March 22.

Marin County movie-goers have much to look forward to this coming season.

Such fine films as "America, America," "V.I.P.s," "Tom Jones," "Seven Days in May," "A Tiger Walks," and "Paris When It Sizzles" will be shown here.

"America, America" is the Elia Kazan story about a youth's determination to come to America from Turkey. It stars Stathis Giallelis on a long and hard journey during the late 1800s.

About the "V.I.P.s" all you have to say is Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton. If they're not stars enough for you, add: Louis Jourdan, Elsa Martinelli, Rod Taylor and Margaret Rutherford.

"Seven Days in May" is the chilling story of a military plot to take over the government of the United States. Coming after the tragic assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the film has an "it could happen here" feeling.

Now take "Tom Jones" (but leave the children at home):

This film set in 18th Century England is up for 10 Oscars this year. It is the story of the adventures and misadventures of Tom (played by Albert Finney) and the troubles he has with his foster brother (Hugh Griffith) and assorted lovely ladies.

Rounding out this list of coming films, you have "Paris When It Sizzles" and "A Tiger Walks."

"Paris When It Sizzles" is a romantic comedy starring Audrey Hepburn and William Holden.

About "A Tiger Walks" all you must know is: Walt Disney. This means a fine film for the whole family to see and enjoy.

BAWDY FUN—"Tom Jones," up for 10 Oscar nominations this year, will open at the Rafael Theater April 15. Strictly

HAVING QUARREL—Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton appear together during a scene from the

"V.I.P.s". This was their first film after making "Cleopatra." It opens March 15 at the Rafael Theater, San Rafael.

TROUBLE IN D.C.—"Seven Days in May" is the astounding story about a military plot to take over the government of the United States. It stars Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas, Frederic March and Ava Gardner. Film opens Sunday at Rafael Theater, San Rafael.

ROMANTIC COMEDY — William Holden and Audrey Hepburn are reunited in a romantic comedy, "Paris When It Sizzles," due to open the first week in April at the Tamalpais Theater, San Anselmo. Gregoire Aslan is also featured in this George Axelrod production.

Highlands Zoning Due Planners

The San Rafael Planning Commission will re-tackle a controversial proposal for Terra Linda at its meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at city hall.

Commissioners will hold the second public hearing on a proposed rezoning of the Highlands of Terra Linda to allow clusters of small apartment houses.

At the first hearing Feb. 25, the commission received a petition of protest signed by 362 residents of Terra Linda.

The Pell Development Co. is seeking the rezoning of 14 acres, northwest of Oleander Drive and abutting Orchard Drive, from unclassified to planned community district.

The company proposes to construct 120 apartment units in 16 buildings clustered among trees.

Commissioners also will review a master plan for Northgate North, on the north side of Manuel Freitas Parkway, adjacent to the cooperative apartments at the Terra Linda interchange.

The proposal for an office building, motor hotel and two gasoline stations by D. M. Christensen was denied by the planning commission Jan. 14, appealed to the city council Feb. 3, and referred to the city attorney to bring about an agreement between the commission and the developer on land uses.

Commissioners also will have a public hearing on the rezoning of Porto Bello for a 14-unit condominium subdivision. The San Rafael Newport Co. is seeking a change from unclassified and duplex zoning to planned community zoning for Point San Pedro Road, between Porto Bello and Harbor Estates.

Other items on the agenda are: Revised plans for Northgate Medical Building at the northwest corner of Las Gallinas Avenue and Northgate Drive, Terra Linda; a use permit for a professional office and pharmacy at Professional Center Parkway and Highway 101 frontage road; a 13-lot subdivision map of Loch Lomond Unit 8, at the north of Loch Lomond Unit 7, an extension of Dunfries Terrace; and a 62-lot subdivision map of Terra Linda Unit 22.

TV Antena Service On Fairfax Agenda

Progress on negotiating with a new television antenna service company for Fairfax's antenna franchise will be discussed by the council at 8 p.m. today.

The council voted Feb. 11 to open negotiations for the franchise with Marin Tower and Cable, Inc., formerly V.D.O. Teletronics of San Francisco, which plans to open an office in Marin County.

Signing of an agreement to join the Association of Bay Area Governments which was unanimously supported by the council last month also is scheduled for the meeting.

Results of an examination for street laborers, notification of expiration of terms of two members of the city recreation commission on April 4, and an amendment to the zoning ordinance regarding fees and building on non-public thoroughfares will also be discussed.

New Brochure On Marin Out

A new full color brochure entitled "Marin County, California," designed and produced by the Marin Visitors Bureau, is being distributed throughout California.

Carrying the slogan "Marin—Land of Sir Francis Drake," the brochure publicizes the county's major attractions for visitors.

The new folder "puts a proper light on Marin as one of the world's beauty spots, rich in history," said Charles D. Helbig, bureau president.

Giving Blood Is Family Affair For Sausalitans

A Sausalito man and wife and their two sons have contributed 73 pints of blood, and officials at the Marin Blood Center in San Rafael figure it must be some kind of a record — certainly a testament to human compassion.

But the Hank Keizer family of 12 Canneau Street are not bent on setting records. They are simply aware of a need and are anxious to fill it.

"I like to participate," Keizer said. He figures that whoever gets his blood is in serious need. "And it doesn't bother me at all. Frankly, I feel better after giving blood."

In a 20-year period, he has given 49 pints of blood. His wife, Ruth, has given 20 pints. Son, Jan, 19, has given three pints and son, Ted, 18, one pint, donating soon after he became old enough. Donors must be at least 18 years old.

Mrs. Keizer said one of her most dramatic donations was while in the Midwest when a neighbor called excitedly one night to say his young wife was in serious need of a transfusion after giving birth.

Mrs. Keizer drove 30 miles to the hospital and donated her blood. The young mother survived.

Blood center officials are particularly pleased that Mr. and Mrs. Keizer have passed on the spirit of giving to their two boys, making it a family affair.

"My folks have been giving blood for years," Jan Keizer said. "It's just part of their way of living." He said he could not wait to be old enough to give blood. His first two donations were credits for James Small, the swimmer fatally injured by a boat propeller in San Francisco Bay.

None of the Keizers has needed blood. Once a donation went to a relative, but often the blood goes to persons not known to them.

Sometimes it goes to the Hemophilia Foundation, sometimes to victims of leukemia.

Once, a neighbor's boy fell out of a tree and had serious internal injuries. Mrs. Keizer said she and her husband released several credits for transfusions that the boy needed.
